Foreword...

As each yesterday brought new ideas, experiences, and friendships into our lives, the pages of this yearbook will bring them back to us tomorrow. As we relive past school days through this book, may we well remember LHS and all that it has meant to us.

Because of the double-shifting program and the sharing of classrooms with the junior high school for almost three years, we appreciate all the more the new beautiful campus-type school. In spite of the inconveniences and hardships during the long wait, the experiences and memories gained will be long remembered.

We, the Senior Class of 1966, hope that your high school years will hold as much fun and as many memories as ours have.

With these few words— - we leave you to pass through the pages—and remember.

Thank you underclassmen for a wonderful senior year.

Space to Share the Things We Believe

In our new school, we have space to share knowledge and understanding, space to be stimulated by and zest of competition, the excitement of winning or the pain of losing, space to grow and develop our minds.

Thanks to those who have provided these beautiful modern buildings— to Ralph Richards, superintendent, for his untiring efforts the past seven years—to the community for financial assistance—and to the school board members during these years.

The Lecapt Staff
Administration Works

to Inspire Students

Through diligent work on the part of the school board, principal, and superintendent; our new high school is now a standing symbol of knowledge, fun, and friendships. It is through their efforts that these new buildings have been equipped and made ready for use by the students and community.

We, the students accept the challenge of making our new high school exactly what it should be, and we will always be indebted to the administration who has made this dream come true.

Mrs. Martha Jensen, secretary to the superintendent, demonstrates the use of the photo copy machine to Wilma Bruce, office girl.

Student Council works to benefit the entire student body. Planning, co-ordinating, and regulating all school activities are some of its duties.

Representatives from each club and class make up the council and is presided over by the Associated Student Body President, Darrell Dickeson.

Student Council is the Governing Body

Stages in Construction

Work on the new high school began June 24, 1965 by contractor Sanford Wright of Everett at a cost of approximately $651,000. The new campus style high school with its six buildings was completed in February 1966.

Pictures 1-5 show the steps in school progress from the first moving of dirt, pouring of cement foundations, and laying bricks to near completion in number 7. Picture number 6 shows the disastrous accident that occurred when a 25 ton beam fell onto the gymnasium floor.
Curriculum
English Department

Perfection in our national language, eloquence of expression, development of literary appreciation, these all aid us in forming and expressing ideas which is the basis of communication.

Miss Judy Walton, Mrs. J. Cowan, and Clarence Foster instruct in these important classes for everyday living. Ability to express one's self is a basic and much needed skill.

Four years of English, Journalism I, and French I, II, are the subjects offered in this vital department in high school.

Students participate in choral reading. Dorothy Long, Rick Kumar, Mary Hatmaker, Mr. Foster, and Mike Wyant.

Il Faut Que Vous Ecoutez à La Bonde?

Miss Walton, Linda Christensen, Patty Buckingham and Sally Lee listen to tape.

Miss Judith Walton, B.A. in Foreign Languages and Education, is a graduate of Washington State University. She teaches English II, I2, French I, and II.

Books Soon to Get New Home in a Spacious Library

Student librarians have charge of the library when the regular librarian is teaching. These students assist with such duties as checking out books, restocking shelves, and helping students find material.

With approximately 3,300 books to use for reference as well as pleasure, the high school library is an excellent place for research and study.

Miss Florence Schnackel, librarian, is a graduate of the University of Omaha with a B.A. degree. She teaches one class in Government and is librarian for both the Elementary and High Schools. Miss Schnackel has been teaching at Leavenworth since 1947.

Tim Easterly perusing a book.
Students in Mrs. Richards' Journalism Class have become aware of what it means to meet a deadline and to write stories that will appeal to the public.

Publishing the high school paper, "The Voice," and the yearbook, "The Lecapi," the staff strived to produce award-winning publications.

The 1965 "Voice" won International Honor rating for the first time when it was judged by the Quill and Scroll. For the past five years, it had maintained a First Place rating.

A B+ has been given to the "The Lecapi" the last few years.

Reading the school paper "hot off the press" are Kathy Hatmaker, Carla Buckingham, Dennis Ward, and Kay Carlson.
Darrell Dickeson, Yvonne McGahney, Tim Adams, and Susan Clark are some of the students who are striving for a good grade on an American Problems test given by Mr. Hauff.

History Is the Foundation of Our Heritage

People, places, ideas——-these all make up history and our heritage. People who have lived and died, building nations and fighting wars, make up world history.

Two new teachers at the Leavenworth High School this year are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cowan. Both earned B.A. degrees at Eastern Washington College of Education.

Mrs. Cowan has a major in French while Mr. Cowan majored in Physical Education. They taught six years at Republic, Washington and one year at Rainier prior to coming to Leavenworth.

Mrs. Jacqueline Cowan teaches classes in Psychology, English, Physical Education and Typing.

Mr. Cowan is an assistant coach, counselor, and has classes in History.

Fred Hauff, varsity basketball coach, received his B.A. degree from Central Washington State College of Education. Mr. Hauff teaches American Problems, World History, and Shop.

Lori Emmons and Mary Stevens observe as Mr. Cowan points to a location on the map in the World History Class.

Physics, Chemistry, Math; Essentials in This Age

Probing the mysteries of the unknown with science and math, learning new terms, performing experiments, using test tubes and electricity... all these are a part of the pursuit of knowledge of the world around us.

Science and math are entrance requirements in most colleges and Leavenworth has a strong department in this field.

With the latest equipment in the new science and biology labs, students will have an opportunity to excel in these fields.

Mr. Turner teaches Biology and Mr. Rembold has Physics, Chemistry, and Mathematics.

Gene Palmquist, Pete McMahon dissect a frog.

Teresa Cornwall, Ciesta Abraham, and Linda Christianson perform an experiment in chemistry by the use of heat and hydrogen gas for the reduction of copper oxide.

Walter Rembold, a graduate of the University of Washington, has a B.S. degree in Education. He teaches Chemistry, Physics, Advanced Algebra, and Mathematics.

Music Enters into the Lives of Students at LHS

By developing voices, cultivating a knowledge of instruments, and performing for the public, students become accomplished in the finer arts.

David Dogan, director of the music department, received a B.A. in music from Seattle Pacific College. He has taken post-graduate work from the U. of W., and at Western Wash. College of Education.

Besides having high school band, chorus, and Washington History, he teaches Jr. High band, chorus, and beginning band.
Leavenworth High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Dogan, performed first at Homecoming.

Other high-lights of this year were presenting a winter concert in December, and marching at the Apple Blossom Festival in May.

Band calendars were again sold by the members as a money making project.

The group plans to compete in some music festivals again this year.

TWIRLERS: Jan Wyant, Sandy West, Pennie West, Mary Walters, and Sally Lee.

Commercial Department

We Learn—by Doing

Learning new experiences in the business field will give many students a head start in their future careers.

The Business Department gives enrollees competent training in the fields of Business Machines, Typing I, II, Bookkeeping, and Shorthand.

An additional Typing I Class was added this year making three beginning classes.

Advanced Typing and Business Machines are taught in the odd years with Shorthand in the even years.

Students taking these classes learn the value of efficiency and accuracy. A well-rounded program is given for those who wish to gain valuable business techniques.

New skills are put to work in Business Machines Class. Dennis Ward, Albin Moore, and Wilma Bruce.

Girls in Home Economics enjoy wholesome foods.

Home Economics

Home Economics is an important part of each girl's future. Under the skillful direction of Mrs. Virginia Williams, the girls learn the basics of the home arts.

Mrs. Williams received her M.S. degree from Colorado State College in Home Economics. She has classes in General Business, Family Relations, and Home Ec.

After cooking in a make-shift kitchen for so long, the girls take great delight in cooking in this well equipped kitchen with four complete working units.

Wood Working

Under the leadership of Fred Hauff, boys in shop learn the skills of woodworking.

Mechanical Drawing is taught in the freshman year to acquaint the boys with forms. All boys are required to take one year of Shop.

For three years, the boys have had shop in the bus garage. Now this class is housed in a spacious shop edifice with lots of modern equipment.

In art classes, students develop imaginative minds working on projects that will give satisfaction and delight.

Signs were made by the Design and Material Class for the combined P-D-Leavenworth Pep Assembly, November 5.

PE Department Stresses
Physical Fitness for All

Students in these classes learn how important it is to be physically fit even though it may mean sore muscles. They participate in basketball, baseball, volleyball, tumbling, and calisthenics during their two years of required physical education.

Mrs. Jacqueline Cowan is the teacher for the girls' Physical Education classes and Mr. Turner has the boys.

This Was the Year

That marked two outstanding school events: Moving into the new high school on January 28, 1965 was accompanied with thrills and excitement ranging from tears to laughter.

The Grizzly basketball team earned a berth in the District Tournament for the first time in eight years, then played so well that it went to the State Tournament as the number three team. No LHS basketball team had gone to State since 1931.

Season's styles included the new look in granny dresses, floor length, and the total look of sweaters with matching knee stockings.

Socially, the student body put on its first "Computer Dance," the juniors put on the prom and banquet, the seniors had their first talent show.

Community-wise, the second Autumn Leaf Festival in September drew thousands of people. The first Alpine store front was completed.

Nationally, the Cold War in Viet Nam turned into a "Hot One" and President Johnson called for an increase in the draft, a rendezvous was also successfully completed in space.

Graduation night saw misty-eyed seniors as they graduated as the first class from the new high school.
Activities
Royal Lady Margaret Motteler presided over the second annual Autumn Leaf Festival, September 25 through October 3.

Tremendous crowds drove the colorful Tumwater Canyon road to view the outstanding fall colored leaves.

The exhibits, art show, craft and hobby shows all drew 1600 signed guests. The attendance at the Pink Garter Theater was about 1400 people. The 18-car Great Northern special train from Seattle brought nearly 1000 visitors. The beef barbecue sponsored by the Little League served around 1600 guests.

The weather was perfect for all of the activities and the community responded in a wonderful way to care for all the visitors.

"Say It With Music," presented by the Pink Garter Theater displayed the talents of many of the local people, as well as high school students. The band also performed on several occasions.

Bert Cole, state land commissioner, received a key to the city of Leavenworth during presentation ceremonies, September 25.

Clarence Foster, teacher, and "Bell-bottom Trousers."
Bavarian Alpine design has transformed Watson's Electric store front. The future plan for Leavenworth is to have its entire block of business buildings on Front Street redesigned to a Bavarian style.

A well-known old-world architect from Germany, Heinz Ulbricht, is drawing plans for some of these buildings. Earl Peterson of Solvang is also helping.

As Leavenworth is nestled in a valley surrounded by high mountains, this Alpine architecture will greatly enhance its beauty and be a drawing card for tourists.

"A Time to Remember—and Never to Forget"

Homecoming 1965, honoring the classes of 1936, 1946 and 1956, was October 29 and 30.

Festivities were kicked off with the traditional bonfire on the baseball field. Skit competition was won by the senior class and the juniors won the yelling contest.

Highlighting the activities was the game with Brewster on Saturday. Although the Grizzlies lost to Brewster 40-7, they didn't go down without a fight.

Halftime activities included the presentation of the royalty. They were escorted onto the field by members of the football team. The LHS band performed and many alumni were present to celebrate a return to their Alma Mater.

A Coronation in the evening brought to a close the day for Queen Jan Wyant and Princesses Vicki Dye, Sally Southwick, Dona Dickerson and Robin Bowen.

The dance after the Coronation brought an end to a week-end filled with excitement and fun.

The Grizzlies bowed to Brewster 40-7.

Queen Susan Clark was chosen by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to reign over the 1966 thirty-four National Ski Jumping Tournament, February 5. Carla Buckingham and Vicki Dye were her princesses.

Queen Susan made TV and radio appearances in Seattle and Spokane to advertise the jumps.

Bakke Hill was officially named at the beginning of the tournament honoring Hermod and Magnus Bakke who have been key figures in building Leavenworth's ski jumping tradition.

Frithjof Prydz was the champion of this year's competition with a jump of 308 feet. The efforts to break Torolf Engan's year-old hill record of 324 feet failed when George Krog jumped 323 feet but fell.

Two plays were presented in February by the Thespian Club under the direction of Miss Judy Walton, English and French teacher.

"The Storm" was a one-act drama with the action taking place in the living room of a small cabin.

"Life of the Party", a hilarious one-act comedy included scenes from the family parlor and a basement room where the surprised hosts found their guests sleeping peacefully on the floor.

Banquet Honors Football Boys

Coach Turner cut the special cake which depicted a football field with players and goal posts. Each player was given a piece of cake that had his name and number inscribed on a small pennant. Awards were presented to the athletes by Coaches Turner and Cowan.

Ron Van Gelder kicks the extra point.
Grizzlies Share Second Place in League

Leavenworth's Grizzlies finished their 1965 football season with 6 wins and 3 losses to get a share in a three-way tie for second place in the Chelan County "B" League.

First place went to undefeated Entiat who downed the Grizzlies 12-0. Entiat ended it's season by placing second in the state.

Ski Club-a Classroom in the Snow

Milton Taylor, Marc Buchanan and Fred Bitle qualified to compete in the Junior National Nordic Championships at Winter Park, Colorado March 16-19. PICTURED: Marc Buchanan, Mike Horsey, Fred Bitle, Paul Schimelfennig and Milton Taylor.

Ski Club played an active role in the winter sports activities of LIS. President of the newly formed Ski Club was Fred Bitle. Dennis Pendleton was vice-president; Linda Christianson, secretary-treasurer; and Milton Taylor, council representative.

Members practiced on the football field to get in shape before the snow came. Mr. Foster was the Ski Club's advisor.

Later, skiers turned out at the hill every day after school. Many of the team's male members participated in competition. Milton Taylor broke the "C" hill record with a jump of 164 feet. Marc Buchanan, Fred Bitle, and Paul Schimelfennig also placed high in the results.

Poor Baseball Season

Leavenworth's Grizzly baseball team, coached by Fred Hauff, had a 5 win, 6 loss record.
In league action, the team won 3 and lost 5.

Track, 1965 - Four Boys Participate in District Meet

Four Leavenworth cindermen qualified at the Chelan County Class "A" meet and participated in the District meet at Quincy, May 22. The four boys were Paul Schmelfenig, Mike Ballew, Tim Adams, and Gary Carpenter.

Paul Schmelfenig was third in the two-mile race in the District Meet and Mike Ballew came in fourth in the 880. Neither boy qualified for State.

Leavenworth entered eight meets. Two Leavenworth High School track records were broken during the first two track meets of 1965. Paul Schmelfenig placed first in the two-mile setting a new record of 10, 37, 6 and Fred Bitle pole vaulted 11 feet in the Wenatchee Time Trials.

Paul Schmelfenig and Mike Ballew, representatives to the district meet, are lifting weights under the supervision of Coach Gary Turner.
Golf Team Places
Second in League

Coached by Mr. Foster, the golf team, made up of eight members, won five and lost three matches. Winning once from each opposing team and twice from Soap Lake, the team placed second in the league. Team Medalists were Jay Dee Houston and Keith Vincent.

Classes
Freshmen Enter into Life and Moods of LHS
Entering high school for the first time are 52 eager students of the class of 1969. They quickly learned the high school routine, beginning each day at 7 a.m. instead of 12:30 p.m. in the afternoon as they did the last two and a half years during double-shifting.

Some of the projects of the class were having charge of the concessions of the first football game with Kiltitas and also at the Manson basketball game.

Sophomores began the year by winning the Associated Student Body card sale by selling the most. This entitled them to pick the game at which they were to have charge of the concessions.

Homecoming game was their football choice and Peshtastin-Dryden, arch rival game, was selected during the basketball season.

Other money raising projects included selling pencils with the basketball schedule printed on them, and address labels.

Forty-four members make up this class.

One More Step to the Top for the Juniors
The class of 1967 chose rings from a collection offered by Jonston's where rings are purchased each year. This year a "star-fire" backing, resembling sun rays, was available.

Booster buttons were sold by the juniors during football season. At the annual Homecoming Bonfire, the class of 1967 was proclaimed "Big-mouths of 1965-66" by winning the yelling contest.

A fitting close to the year was the planning and carrying out of a successful Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet.
Fashions Are Fun

Rat Fink coats are worn by Gary West and Robin Bowen as they play in the "white stuff" outside the Osborn Elementary Building.

Graduates Leaving LHS Face the Challenge of an Ever Changing World

We, the graduating class of 1966, look to the future with courage. Our goals are high, our standards true, and our faith staunch, as we cross the line between the present and its activities and the past with its remembrances.

Memories... Our first day at school when we faced the personalities known simply as "the teachers"—Mrs. Youngberg and Mrs. Cushman.

Our progress through the next five years was uneventful and when we entered the seventh grade we thought we had the "world by the tail." We soon discovered, however, from our teachers, textbooks, and upperclassmen that we had much to learn.

We prepared ourselves for the long awaited day when we would take our place beside the other high school students at LHS. Sandy West and Dennis Ward won the American Legion Awards at eighth grade graduation.

Soon the long awaited day came and we swung into the exciting life of high school. In our freshmen year, Dennis Ward was elected class proxy and Sandy West, Homecoming Princess.

In our sophomore year, we began a new way of school life. Because the old high school was condemned, we had to go on double-shift with classes beginning at 7 a.m. and dismissing at 12:30 p.m. with only a five-minute snack-break. To raise funds for the treasury, basketball schedule pencils were sold. Sandy West was class president and Carla Buckingham, Homecoming Princess.

As Juniors we strived firmly for the goal just in sight. Topping the seniors in the ASB card sales was this year’s highlight. "Hawaiian Sunset" was the theme chosen for the Senior Prom. Darrell Dickson was class president and Jackie Lemmon, Homecoming Princess.

At last we reached that coveted time, our senior year at LHS which was crammed with activities from start to finish.

Behind us, we leave part of ourselves but we are taking much more with us. We have gained knowledge, maturity, and responsibility and will recall many times the happy memories at dear Old LHS.

We leave them because we are entering a different phase of life and they are important only to bring us up to date and help us remember that we have passed this part of our life and have only to keep reaching for our goal... success.
Having four years of perfect attendance are: Grover Kerr, Yvonne McGahuey, and Albin Moore.

Co-Salutatorians Charles Ferrel 3, 46 and Jan Wyant congratulate the Valedictorian Sandy West, 3, 51.

Top honors are given by the faculty to those students who contributed most to the school. The highest is given to the IDEAL SENIOR who has participated in school activities, given freely of his services, and has a high character.

All-around boy and girl are those who have entered a variety of activities. The all-around athlete must have taken part in three sports, the Sousa Award goes to the one who has done the most for the band, and the all-around music to the one most active in varied musical functions.
The Present Is Now, the Past Is Gone...

We leave thee now, the sacred halls we love.......
May God lead on and guide us from above;
As though through life we wander all alone,
We'll ne'er forget that place we called home.
The mountains green, the gentle breeze caress,
We'll ne'er forget our dear LHS.

Lecapi staff members wish to extend their appreciation to Mr. Walter Rembold for developing all the pictures for this book and to the Camera Club for taking the athletic shots.
We wish also to thank Mrs. Matilda Richards, advisor, for her help and advice, and to the Pischel Publishing Company for printing this book.
The Staff hopes this edition will bring back happy memories to all who look through its pages.
