Mr. Robert Racy (SUPERINTENDENT) and Mrs. Winifred Pflugrath (DISTRICT SECRETARY) help keep school running smoothly.
In addition to the usual planning, budgeting, hiring, and policy making, each school board member attended one or more state or national educational meetings for school directors. This was done in an effort to keep up with modern school administration.

Mr. Davis resigned from the board and was replaced by Mr. Bates.

During the summer the area between the high school and multi-purpose room was blacktopped. A new (used) car was purchased. And drivers education was added to the curriculum during second semester.

The Freshmen started out by selecting a project they would like to do in their Senior year. Their project will be the building of permanent rest rooms and athletic storage room near the football field. Tickets, representing cement blocks for the building, will be sold. This project is still in the planning stage.

A successful playnight was held October 19. In the spring they planted flowers in the planter. The class presented their version of "Little Red Riding Hood" at a pep assembly.

As the tradition goes the boys cleaned up the bon fire and the girls cleaned the kitchen after the spaghetti feed.

Advised by Mrs. Tabor, the Sophomores had a variety of activities during the school year. They started out by offering their service for a fall car wash. As the year progressed, they provided the school two "goodies," first a candy sale and then a dance featuring the "Goodies Galore." To put icing on the cake, they held their annual Cotton Ball on March 23.

Juniors

The Juniors ended a successful year with the annual Junior–Senior Prom entitled "Midnight Splendor" held April 13, in the High School Gym. Money for this event was raised largely from concessions and also by selling Hershey bars and sponsoring a fall "Psychedelic" dance with John Goss, from KMET, playing the "Top 40."

Advisors for the Juniors were Mrs. Lappin and Mr. Fogarty.

Seniors made history October 2 by choosing maroon and white as their graduation colors. This was the first time in P-D history that a class had gone through commencement exercises in the school colors.

Graduation was May 31, with Baccalaureate on May 26.

The Seniors have a lot to remember from their senior party which was held at the YMCA in Wenatchee on May 31 and from their senior trip.

The class of 1968 selected "The Success of Tomorrow is the Desire of Today" as their class motto.

"In the few short days I attended Evergreen Girl's State, I came to realize how complicated and what a responsibility it is to run our state government. I only wish everyone could have the chance to experience these moments before leaving high school.

"In our school we study the functions and the way our government operates, but when you actually see it work and take part, it becomes real and alive to you, much more than you could ever experience from any book.

"We appreciate the time and effort put in by the American Legion Auxiliary for making Girl's State happen.

"I want to urge every junior to apply, for it will be one of the most memorable experiences of your high school days.

"The friendships I made, the excitement after 'lights-out' and the knowledge gained will be a time never to be forgotten."

Sincerely,

Lynn Harvey
Girl's State Representative summer 1967

"This past year I fortunately had the honor of representing Peshastin-Dryden at the American Legion's Evergreen Boy's State. In this respect I hope I did not fail my school or community.

"Boy's State was held in Spokane on the Gonzaga University Campus. Upon arriving we were divided into political parties, cities, and counties. We also formed our state government and at these three levels of government we worked long and hard to pass good bills, good budgets and to learn the finer points of politics at first hand.

"I could not possibly relate to you the true meaning of those seven treasured days of my life. Here, one can learn more than from any classroom or book. In reviewing my many wonderful activities at Boy's State I have come to this conclusion. In a time of trouble and stress I saw some of our future leaders in action and I don't think our great state or nation needs to worry about our generation's ability or loyalty."

Sincerely,

Dean Radke
Boy's State Representative

Christmas was celebrated in many ways this year. Gayly decorated halls and rooms added spirit to the Christmas holiday.

Something new was added to the yearly Christmas Program. Students brought cookies and candy for a buffet table.

A skit loosely based on "The Night Before Christmas" was performed by the faculty.

Presents were passed out to the excited, homebound students.

The Student Council was very active this year, starting out by renting a coke machine for the gym in the high school. It was much used during noontime and wrestling matches, and proved to be a money maker for the ASB.

A public address system was installed in the high school gym. The Council also helped finance a speaker system for the multi-purpose room.

A school assembly was held to decide whether or not to have a Christmas party and if so what kind. It was decided to have the usual plus a table of goodies.
This year, the Lettermen's Club under the guidance of Mr. Thies and Mr. Bullis started off their activities by putting on a skit and bonfire for Homecoming. On February 16, they put on a basketball game matching the P-D faculty against the KMEG Live Five. The proceeds from this game sponsored their yearly spring camping trip.

PRES: Randy, VICE-PRES: Dell, SEC.-TREAS: Jim, REP: Gary.
The Spirit Assn. was organized during the year to take over the responsibilities of the discontinued Pep Club. Under their new advisor, Mr. Houser, the Assn. made a new constitution.

The Pep Club changed Homecoming by serving spaghetti instead of chili the night of the bonfire. They also, along with the Lettermen, decorated the gym for the Homecoming Dance using the theme "Camelot."

On Valentine's Day a Mother-Daughter Banquet was held in the multipurpose room.

This girls' pep organization fulfilled its main purpose---to support our teams through a very successful athletic season.
Honor Society

Headed by advisor Mr. Johnston, the Honor Society started off with the traditional cider squeeze. For two days members slaved over three hand presses to produce $180.00 worth of cider. Other activities included a dance, slave auction, and the yearly trip. Money earned from these activities go to some deserving senior in the form of a scholarship.

This year a Social Studies Club was formed. The Peshastin-Dryden Social Studies Club is advised by Mr. Houser and Mr. Johnston and is run by the officers; President: Terry Simon, Vice President: Dan Ortiz, Secretary: Lynn Harvey, and Student Council Representative: Jack Johnson. The club sponsored the trip to Student Congress at Tacoma, Model United Nations at Shoreline, and Model United Nations at Ellensburg. The club had a book drive to get both books and money for the Social Studies Club's library. The Kiwanis and Social Studies Club also sponsored an exchange of students between our school and a high school in Canada.

The Yearbook Staff started out a busy year attending the North Central Washington Yearbook Workshop at Chelan, September 23. Lectures were given on operating a camera, and how an annual should be constructed. Also a movie pertaining to "The Finishing Product" was shown.

Pictures, glue, lay-outs, picture-schedules, working holidays and finally meeting the dead line—all were dealt with by the staff and advisor.

The spirited P-D football team placed first in the Chelan-Douglas League. Under the new leadership of Mr. Thies, the squad was rated third then fourth in the state.

The Cougars season ended with eight wins and one tie. During this season the Cougars beat Cashmere for the first time in the history of football at P-D. Then the squad went on to tie with our upper valley rival Leavenworth, for one of the most exciting games of the year.

Scott Warman was voted as most inspirational, along with Warren Smith as best tackling, Randy Betz as honorary captain and Fred Schaller as best blocker.
"A" SQUAD KNEELING: Carl (Mgr.), Mr. Bullis (Coach), Robert (Ass't. mgr.). STANDING: Keith, Jim, Sam, Dean, Dan, Mike, Fred, Jerry, Ray, Randy, Ron.

Under the leadership of Coach Bob Bullis, the P-D Cougars finished the 67-68 basketball season with a 9 won 10 lost record. The Cougars proved to be tough contenders in the Chelan-Douglas League with a small but hustling team. The closing highlight of the regular schedule was when P-D beat arch-rival Leavenworth in a very tension filled game. This win gave the Cougars a District Tourney berth and a chance to try for State.
