A SCHOOL FOR ALL SEASONS
Mr. Richards is still smiling after a busy day in his office.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards relax in front of their fireplace.

Mrs. Richards enjoys working in her kitchen.

Dedication

In grateful recognition for the work of Mr. Richards as Superintendent, and Mrs. Richards as teacher and Lecapi advisor, we, the annual staff, dedicate the nineteen sixty-nine Lecapi to them. We hope that it will express in some measure our appreciation for their unlimited service.
Foreword

Through the seasons our school has been a place of life for us. Fall brought the excitement of returning to friends, football games, and cold, brisk days of running down the sidewalks to get to class. Winter came with basketball, wrestling, skiing, and lots of vim and vigor. As spring crept up, seniors were anxiously awaiting that day of freedom. Juniors were working hard on the prom, and many were in baseball or various other activities.

It is our hope that as you turn through the pages of this year’s book, the memories of this year will be vividly displayed to you, and that our school can truly be called a school for all seasons.

Mr. Rice Initiates A Change In Scheduling

Leavenworth High School has a new secretary, Mrs. Bert Granger. She originally came from Hawaii and has lived in Leavenworth for nine years now. Mrs. Granger said, "the first day of school was like Grand Central Station at it's busiest time." Mr. Rice told her that the routine would settle down after the first week, but it hasn't yet. Being a high school secretary is different than anything she's done before. Also she says that "you take your life in your own hands going to lunch!"

Mrs. Martha Jensen, school board clerk.
Mrs. Bert Granger

This year Mr. Rice has many changes with which to cope. The year's grading system has been changed from four quarters and two semesters, to three semesters. The previous class schedules have been changed and new ones are being tested. "1968-1969 is a year of experimentation in an effort to find combinations to produce the best atmosphere with regard to academics and activities."
Teachers Find Plenty To Keep Them Busy

Miss Linda Orndoff teaches Health, and Home Ec. 1, 2, and 3. She is a graduate of Central Washington State College.

Mr. Jerry Dirkse has a B.A. from Northwest Nazarene College and an M.A. in Ed. from U. of Idaho. He is the head of the music department at the high school and junior high school.

Mrs. Virginia Wieder graduated from the U. of Wash. with a B.S. in Counseling. She teaches Typing, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, and a junior English Class.

Mr. Walter Rembold teaches Geometry, Physics, Senior Math, Advanced Algebra and Chemistry. He graduated from the U. of Wash. with a B.Sc. in Ed.

Mrs. Agnes Hicks supervises all of the study hall classes. Miss Florence Schnackel is our librarian.

Mr. Fred Hauff, our varsity basketball coach, teaches Mechanical Drawing, Wood Shop, and Crafts. He received his B.A. from Central Wash. State College.
Mr. Robert Cowan received a B.A. from Eastern Washington College. He teaches Advanced P.E., Wash. history, world affairs, is student counselor, and B-Squad basketball coach.

Mr. Verne Lietz teaches U.S. history and government, Journalism, world history, and world affairs. He holds a B.A. in History and Political Science from Arkansas Tech. and a Master's degree in Secondary Ed. from the U. of Delaware.

Mr. Bill Kampen graduated from Mankato State College, Mankato, Minnesota, with a B.A. in Ed. He teaches English 9 and 10 and Algebra.

Mrs. Jacque Cowan graduated from Eastern Wash. State College. She has a major in French and a B.A. in Education. She teaches French 1, 2, and 3, and also P.E. 9 and 10.

Mrs. Kathie Bauer graduated from Central Wash. State College with a B.A. in Ed. She teaches Eng. 11 and 12, Lecapi, Design & Materials and Psychology.

Mr. Gary Turner has a B.A. from Whitworth College. He teaches Biology, General Science, P.E. 9 and 10 and is football and track coach.
Mr. Dirkse Directs An Active Music Department

Hard work and patience distinguished Leavenworth's band and chorus, under the direction of Mr. Jerry Dirkse. Both groups worked actively throughout the school year to raise money and present various public concerts. Members not only put class time to use but sacrificed many of their free weekends to complete these projects.

Band and chorus members erected and maintained their traditional booth during the 1968 Autumn Leaf Festival and sold, amongst other things, Mrs. Carlson's famous peanut brittle. Along with performances in the Autumn Leaf, Apple Blossom, and Lilac Day parades the music department presented both a winter and spring concert.

The music department tried a different approach to this year's Christmas concert.

Students Strive For Fitness

Health education is required for one year by both boys and girls. Miss Orndoff's class studied the body, its functions, and what effects alcohol, tobacco, and narcotics have on our physical well-beings.

Advanced P.E. is composed mainly of juniors and seniors. With the knowledge they gained from their past health classes, Mr. Cowan is able to keep his class functioning most effectively. Advanced P.E. concentrates on providing the student with a variety of skills that may later be used indoors and out. Some of the activities included are tumbling, badminton, golf, and bowling.
Students Learn About The Depths Of Life Through Science

Biology, Psychology, and Chemistry teach students many facts about life. Learning about how organisms live and function are part of biology. Psychology students learn how man functions in his environment, and chemistry students learn about the composition of inorganic substances.

Reverend Murrey Hyde discussed the marriage ceremony and marriage vows in psychology.

Kathy Kidder and Gail Hayes weigh out some tiny particles.

Lerin Brownlee and Janice Whaley look through a selection of books on love and marriage.

Bob Fritz and Danny Heimbecker concentrate on dissecting a frog.
Through History, Students Learn To Correlate The Past With The Present

When was the Civil War? Why did the Crusades take place? How is the war in Vietnam going to turn out? These are questions that are asked in Wash-state history, world history, U.S. history and in world affairs.

Yearbook Staff Makes Major Changes

Lcapi staff members experienced two major changes this last year. One, was receiving a new advisor, Mrs. Kathie Bauer, and the other, was changing its publishing company. Amongst other changes were more pages in the yearbook and color page divisionals as a result of the entire class's efforts on selling ads.

Languages Broaden Student's Perspective

Each year Mrs. Bauer and Mr. Kampen put forth a valiant effort to direct their students in a proper usage of the English language.

Mr. Kampen first acquaints students with basic principles and Mrs. Bauer further develops these principles in order that students may experience a variety of language activities, such as creative dramatics and theme writing.

LHS offers French as it's foreign language for the college bound students. Taught by Mrs. Jacqui Cowan, the classes are first taught basic courtesies and then go on to reading, writing, and most important, learning to speak French.

Second year French students use the moments before class to relax and talk.

Byron and Pam concentrate on their lay-outs.

Industrial Arts Add Interest To Daily Studies

Shop and crafts give Mr. Hauff a variety of people to teach.

Craft gives girls the opportunity to work with wood and the various sorts of tools used in wood working. They also tool leather and work with plastic.

and Mrs. Bauer investigate the slide projector.

Mr. Kampen's English class sits absorbed in a daily lesson.
Constructive Study Develops Character

Students taking design and materials are taught the basic principles of design. They are aware of line, texture, form and space as being elements of design. Linoleum blocks, drawing, sculpture and clay are a few of the mediums that help the students to develop awareness of art by creating their own projects.

From the study hall comes the works of would be authors, mathematicians, chemists, and homemakers. The quietness creates an atmosphere needed for serious study.

If assistance is needed in finding books or reference material, Mrs. Agnes Hicks and Miss Florence Schnackel are there to help. The library is open every period, also before and after school. It also provides a place where students can meet and talk before school and during the noon hour.

Students work well in a creatively decorated study hall.

Gregg Jones, Rick DeFoer and Steve Hansen are caught in the act of horsing around.

Victor Jacobs, Larry Willet, Danny Heimbeker, Gary Schimelfenig and Natalie Ballew are concentrating on their projects for design and materials class.
Ken Housden applies his mathematical skills.

Mr. Kampen guides a student in an algebra problem at the chalkboard.

Mathematics Provides For Abstract Reasoning

Science and math. are entrance requirements in most colleges, and L.H.S. has a strong department in that field. Students are able to choose from algebra, geometry, physics, chemistry and trigonometry. Taking these courses helps the student to reason. With the latest equipment, students have the opportunity to excel.

Advanced algebra class listens to a lecture.

Terry, Roger, Terry W., Dan and Mike are concentrating as they take a nickel quiz in senior math.

Students Tackle Problems Of The Business World

Shorthand, typing, and bookkeeping are offered in the business department this year. Learning skills in the business field will give students a fundamental beginning, if they plan to go on to business college or work in an office.

Byron seeks advice in bookkeeping class.

Outdoor Pep Assemblies
Add To The Spirit Of L.H.S.

Sunshine and fresh air became a part of the pep assemblies this year. They were held outside in the plaza area this fall with the cheerleaders conducting yells from the grass hill by the music building.

Many students commented that they enjoyed these types of pep assemblies and found them very spirit boosting.

Hillbillies, sophisticated women, a pet skunk and a snow storm joined together in forming a hilarious uproar of a play staged by the Drama Club on November 22. A cast party was held in the LAIR afterwards.

The money that Drama Club earned from basketball concessions and a bake sale was used to buy make-up and help pay for a trip to see a play performed by professionals.
A.S.B. And Honor Society
Strive To Improve L.H.S.

Student Council, presided over by A.S.B. president Dennis Ferrel, is composed of representatives from each class and club. Setting the policies for student activities and enacting rules necessary for the good of the school is the duty of the student council.

One of the main objectives of this year's council was to raise funds to finance the lights for the new football field.

Honor Society is made up of ten worthy scholars who enjoy having fun as well as realizing the importance of the four precepts of the organization: leadership, service, citizenship, and character. To be a member of honor society, a student must have a three point grade average for two consecutive semesters.

One of the club's goals was to observe the State Legislature in Olympia.

Torch members, Mike Wall, Ron Webb, and Steve Willet, have had three point G.P.A.'s every quarter for four years.

Dedicated students are what it takes to put out the high school paper, The Voice of L.H.S. Many long hours after school, typing stencils, and running off pages are just a few of the duties of the journalism staff.

The students also learn how to write up interesting stories and organize creative page designs, while they are developing the skills of typing with an electric typewriter.

School Participation In Homecoming

Excitement swelled as the weekend's activities progressed. Rain attempted to spoil the weekend and dampen spirits but the bonfire activities were held in the gym with great response by everyone.

The coronation was beautiful with the complete participation of the senior class. The dance which followed the coronation was well attended, for the disc-jockeys from KMEL radio station provided the entertainment.

Grizzlies Overpower Cougars Fourteen-Seven During Homecoming

The Homecoming game was no disappointment as the Grizzlies rolled over arch rival Peshastin-Dryden. This victory cinched second place for Leavenworth.

Ten seniors played the last game of their high school career, but had a great game to end it.
Junior Varsity Shows Good Potential

Although the Junior Varsity failed to compile a winning record, they showed great desire, good sportsmanship, and fine potential for next year's varsity team.

Fortunately, there were no serious injuries, and inexperience was the only big problem. Their win-loss record was one win, three losses, and one tie.

Grizzlies
End Season With Six Win, Two Loss, One Tie Record

Despite a number of casualties, the Grizzly football team wound up a successful season with a Homecoming victory over the Peshastin-Dryden Cougars. This victory put the Grizzlies in second place.

The Grizzlies lost only two games. One was with Bridgeport, the league champion, and the other was with Chelan, an A class school.

Concert Adds Sparkle To The Christmas Season

Christmas spirit came early to the LHS music department this year. Plans and committees were formed far in advance to organize the 1968 Christmas Concert.

The concert theme was built around Christmas at Heinz Dirkse's Ski Chalet. Informal singing and tree decorating contributed to the relaxed atmosphere, and the occasion even included a surprise visit from Santa.

Mr. Dirkse received an early Christmas gift in thanks for his directing abilities.

Musicians relax and await their performance.

Santa pauses just long enough to wind dancing dolls, Patti Koenig, and Marci Montoya.

The evening closes and Heinz Dirkse begins his task of cleaning the chalet.
Patti Koenig Is New Ski Queen

From the twenty girls in the senior class, three were chosen to represent Leavenworth at the 1969 international ski jumps held at Bakke Hill. The crowning of queen Patty Koenig and her two princesses, Debin and Robin Bowen took place in the park of downtown Leavenworth during the annual Christmas tree lighting ceremony.

Bob Rogers presents Queen Patti Koenig with a cuckoo clock after she made a speech at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner. Ted Price is seated at Queen Patti's left.

Robin, Debin and Patti watch for a ski jumper.

Student Body Celebrates Annual Christmas Party

During the month of December the whole student body became gay with the Christmas spirit. To express their gaiety, they put on a Christmas party the last day of school before the holidays.

Skits were put on by the different classes and carols sung by all. The highlight of the party was Santa Claus. He passed out gifts and read his Christmas list. The students were then given refreshments and sent home.

Ski Team Interest Grows

Sponsored by the Leavenworth Winter Sports Club, the junior high and high school students made this the second year for the LWSC ski team. Coach Haugh has been with the team both years and helps them in alpine, jumping and cross-country events. With transportation provided by the school, the team made its way to the races and occasionally went for an overnight trip.
Grizzlies Enter State

JV's End A Victorious Season

Coached by Robert Cowan the JV basketball team repeated an undefeated season, losing only one non-league game to Cashmere. Leading the JV's to their victories in scoring were David James, Van Darlington, and Robert Rinke. With all of the varsity graduating, the JV's will provide good support for future state basketball teams.

Sophomores Sell Christmas Candles To Suppliment Class Treasury

Class of 1971 shows their ability to perform by winning the Homecoming skit competition pictured at the right.

Juniors Participate In Varied Activities

Activity was ignited when the Juniors sold bookcovers in the fall and then sold themselves as slaves. Juniors became great comedians through their skit participation. Helen Schons was elected Homecoming princess and Mark Koenig was her escort. The juniors sponsored a successful Prom, despite all the hectic moments.

Social Year

Bill Burgess leads Queen Carol Garrecht in the first dance.
Cheryl McKinney holds Bavarian Banner.

Leavenworth displays prize winning float.

Couples dance the night away.

Princess Julie Mathena rides Leavenworth's float entry.

We Enjoyed The Prom

Champagne bottles, a realistic steamboat and miniature southern belles carried out the prom theme, "Southern Mansions." Students danced to the music of Stretch Garrecht's band.

Finally with the advent of spring, the school year draws to an end, and Julie Mathena was chosen as Apple Blossom princess.

left: As the festivities commence many couples retire to their tables to enjoy the gay atmosphere.
Dedicated People Keep School In Running Order

Cleaning and grooming school grounds, serving hot lunch, and driving bus routes through all kinds of weather are just a few of the jobs carried out by the school helpers.

The hot lunch program, under the direction of Mrs. Ethel Cloke, strives each day to provide a new variety of food. Hot lunch is served to about one-hundred-fifty students.

Cutting lawn, plowing snow, and cleaning classrooms are duties faithfully carried out by our school custodians.

Dale Bolyard cleans the classrooms after all the students are gone.

Judy Delgatty serves lunch.

Iver Jensen directs the unloading of light poles.

Shuttle buses, driven by Mrs. Joan Moore and Mrs. June Spelger, transport students to and from the regular bus route.
Iver Jensen adjusts the blade of the school snowplow.

Mrs. Cloke, receiving assistance from student helpers, serves lunch.

Maurice Wilcox, Dave Delgatty and Ray Cloke drive bus.
Grizzlies Wind Up A Victorious Season

Energetic Grizzlies wound up a fine seven win, three loss season. Experiencing some tough breaks and unusually cold weather throughout the season, they played great ball. Losing only three senior lettermen and the rest being underclassmen, the Grizzlies look forward to another fine season.

High score of the season came when Leavenworth defeated the Waterville Shockers twenty-one to seven on the Peshastin-Dryden field. A score of two to zero was the low season score when the Grizzlies edged out Manson.

BELOW RIGHT: Marc Buchanan runs hard to first base.
Steve Willet is set for peg to third.

Loren Darlington scores another run for the Grizzlies.

Coach Hauff said, "This is the best season we've had since I've been here."

Mike Wyant makes the out at first.
Jerry West Represents Tract Team At State

Track, one of the most glorious of individual and team sports, drew the efforts and time-consuming dedication of fifteen L.H.S. boys. Some felt the thrill of victory and others the agony of defeat.

Paul Schimelfenig, Steve Ballew, and Jerry West went to district. Jerry West succeeded in going to the state track meet.

Coached by Gary Turner, the team made a fine showing during the 1968 season.

Jerry West clears the bar easily.

John McKinney and Dan Burgess run in the long distance races.

Jack Segle pole vaults the bar.

RIGHT: Bucky Duncan puts the shot.
FAR RIGHT: Jim Peake throws the javelin.
A Young Golf Team Gets Experience

Working with a fairly young team and a few veterans to help out, Mr. Kampen, coached the team through some tough matches that were closely played. The outlook is good for future seasons, with experience backing the team and coach.

Bill Brownlee tees off of number five.

Terry Tenley chips on, as Mark Koenig lines up a putt.

Gary Trumble walks down the fourth fairway.

Styles Reflect A Long Cold Winter

Styles this year have ranged from wool skirts and sweaters to the cool breezy styles of spring.

Boys attired themselves in pendleton shirts, slacks and jeans.

Due to extreme coldness, wool clothes dominated the scene at LHS for most of the year.

Right: Mike Wyant, who is wearing a blue sweater and Levi slacks, talks to John Brunton, wearing a wool shirt and Levi jeans, while Dorothy Long, in a skirt and vest combination, listens.

Marcia Fassnacht, dressed in a front-breasted jumper, holds the door for Melba Long, who is wearing a long wool plaid skirt.

Julee Jackson and Susie Stanaway display just two of the many outer garments worn this year.
Natalie Ballou, wearing a fashionable gathered skirt and scarf, stops to talk to Bill Franklin, who is wearing a cotton wind shirt.

Always together, Robert Rinke and Karen Alvarez display various winter wools, including look alike shoes.
Girl And Boy Staters Learn The Importance Of Government

Central Washington State College in Ellensburg was the stomping grounds for Pam Spelger from June 9th to the 16th while she was attending Girls' State as a representative from L.H.S. Acting as a precinct committeewoman and a lobbyist, she managed to get a bill passed through the House and Senate about welfare, however the Governor didn't sign it.

While attending Boys' State at Gonzaga University, Tom Hicks learned quite a bit about parliamentary procedure. He held the position of representative of Tammerack City in Puget County. As a member of the Tammerack City Volleyball team, Tom helped his team to come in first throughout the delegation.
Films On Main Activities Boys’ Club.

Boys’ Club officers, Pres., Harvey Leister, V. Pres., Horace Leister, Sec., Mark Koenig, and Program Chairman, Terry Tenley, take time after their lunch to play a fast game of Basketball.

Boys listen while Mr. Lietz, Boys’ Club advisor, talks about Tactical Air Command.

Individuality Gives Each Of These Seniors Personality

Senior personalities were chosen from amongst their class members by secret ballot. This is the first time in twenty-two years, that a senior class has had a personality list published in the Lecapi.

Debin and Mike are always ready for action.

Melba and Steve are serious about life.

Style if foremost in the minds of lemon and Bill.
Senior Class Of 1969

Through the past four years the class of 1969 brought in new ideas such as the slave sale they put on as sophomores. During their junior year they won the skit competition with a unique card section display.

The 1968 Prom, Southern Mansions became a reality with the joint efforts of the entire class. The juniors then decided to break tradition and canceled the senior banquet.

Now they are seniors. They will leave high school just a little bit wiser, more intelligent, and with the hope that they can take on the responsibilities of leadership in the future.

Sandi, Mike, Mary, Byron, Linda, and Bill, senior class officers, take time out for fun and games.

These Seniors Receive
Highest Honors From L.H.S.

Senior honors are bestowed upon outstanding members of the senior class for their special services to Leavenworth High School. Highest of these honors is IDEAL SENIOR. This honor is awarded on the basis of dependability, co-operation, scholarship, and service to the school.

All-around boy and girl have contributed most to all school events during their four years of high school.

All-around athlete is selected for his sportsmanship, loyalty, and having participated in three sports.

The John Phillip Sousa award is given to a senior band member in recognition for outstanding achievement in instrumental music, based on ability, loyalty, and co-operation.

All-choral award is presented to the choir member who excels in vocal achievement, interest and co-operation.

Service is the key word to all of the above mentioned honors. However, service can be given to a school in a variety of ways. In awarding this year's honors, the faculty felt that a new honor should be given to a student who is constantly giving service to school clubs, class projects, and student body activities. It could be said of a person who receives the service award, that if there is a task that needs to be completed, one can count on the dependability and service of this person.
