Man has always been curious about the moon. Ancient Greeks, like Aristotle, longed to explore our earth’s satellite, but until the summer of 1969 it had never been possible. Then, on July 16, three astronauts, Commander Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., and Michael Collins, left Cape Kennedy in the Apollo 11 spacecraft, on a long-dreamed-of mission—the landing and walking of man on the moon. These three men were Americans, but when Commander Armstrong claimed the moon for all mankind during his spacewalk on July 20, national barriers were relaxed and all the earth waited for the safe landing of the craft. Their splash-down in the Pacific Ocean was successful, leading the way for the second moon-walk voyage. This took place in December of 1969 with astronauts Alan Bean, Richard Gordon and Pete Conrad. This mission also was marvelously successful.

With the coming of the moon landing also came the Freshmen. Like all Freshmen their first job was cleaning up after the Homecoming Bonfire and Chili Feed. As time went on the Freshmen adjusted to their new life and ventured out to new activities such as selling pep pins and having a bake sale. In the spring they did their traditional job of planting flowers around the school.

The sophomore class started the year of 69-70 with a successful car wash. Some of their other money raising activities included a sock dance with Cashmere and Leavenworth, and the selling of candy and Christmas candles. They also planned and prepared for the traditional Cotton Ball in the spring. Mr. Bullis was their class advisor.

The Juniors ended a successful year with the annual Junior-Senior Prom, entitled "Romeo and Juliet." Money for this event was raised mainly by selling concessions at the games. Extra money was obtained from selling spirit-booster pins, and by having an after-game dance on Dec. 12. In the spring they were also very successful with their class play entitled "Desperate Ambrose." Class advisors were Mrs. Hiatt and Mr. Johanson.

Following tradition, the Seniors opened the '69-'70 school year by having the Welcome Freshman Dance. A slave day was also held in the fall. Caps and gowns were ordered from the E.R. Moore Co. in the colors of Halls of Ivy Green and White, and soon after, the senior class decided to purchase their announcements from the Crown Company. Busy plans were then set up to make their graduation from P-D one of the best.

This year the Student Council was very busy. As well as traditionally decorating the school for the holidays, they selected a student court to review student absences of over five days, and directed a student-faculty committee to review the dress code. The student Council also authorized the purchase of new basketball warm-up jackets and voted to pay for the rooms at the State Basketball Tournament for the cheerleaders.

The memories of Boys' State acquired in the summer of 1969 shall never be forgotten. The knowledge of how our city, county and state government functions offered a new awareness and understanding. We learned first hand the organization and function of political parties, how the legislature formed laws, and how the judicial and executive branches enforced them. One of the most interesting phases was the privilege of being elected to the State Supreme Court and reviewing newly made laws and acting upon them. Although Boys' State is a time of learning, it is also a time of fun, fellowship, and an opportunity to meet and share the responsibility of citizenship with other boys from around the state.

I appreciate having had the opportunity to represent our school, at Boys' State at Gonzaga University, and will long remember the political lessons and ideas established there.

Sincerely,

Thomas A. Baker
Boys' State Representative
Summer 1969

The few short days I spent at Evergreen Girls' State was a rich and rewarding experience filled with learning, excitement, confusion, laughter, and tears.

Upon arrival we were divided into political parties, cities, and counties, and as citizens, were given the responsibility of organizing and running our government. We elected our officials and enacted bills. Two of these bills were an 18-year-old voting age bill and a sex-education bill.

Because I was a participant and actually helped in the operation of our Girls' State government, it became alive and real. Sitting in a classroom reading about our government could never teach me as much as I learned in that week.

On the closing day of Girls' State I realized that saying "Goodbye" to the friends I had made and would never meet again, was the beginning—not an ending—of many lasting friendships.

Sincerely,

Naomi A. Knight
Girls' State Representative

Honor Society

This year the Honor Society had a scavenger hunt to welcome in new members. On December 12 during a Leavenworth game the club raffled three turkeys. At Christmas the members gave gifts and sang carols at the Cashmere rest home. In February the Honor Society members sold chocolate bars to increase their scholarship fund.

Rep., Laura Simon; Vice Pres., Sharon Rudolph; Treas., Shirley Branscum; Pres., Dave Adams; Sec., Donna George.
Social Studies Club

The Social Studies Club started off a busy year by sponsoring a Veteran's Day program on Nov. 10th, and by sending delegates to the Model United Nations at Shoreline on the 15th of the same month. In February, a Valentine Tolo was held on the 13th to help cover expenses. Delegates were sent to the MUN at Ellensburg for the overnight stay on April 3rd and 4th.

Annual Staff

This past year, the annual staff was able to meet every day during a special third period class to work with their advisor, Mrs. Lyle, on the yearbook. This gave them more time to do all of the work needed on the Puma.

Taking out time from selling ads and planning layouts, four staff members traveled to the North Central Washington Yearbook Conference held in Chelan, and came back with some good ideas to help make this Puma a success.

Band

The band made their first appearance in their new uniforms this year at the Leavenworth Autumn Leaf Festival in October. The band took part in Homecoming activities and traveled to Chelan to the annual band contest in March. In May, the band wore their new berets purchased by the band boosters in the Apple Blossom Festival Parade.

Homecoming
As P-D's 1969-1970 year rolled around, the Spirit Association got off to a good start under the supervision of Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Hettery. During the Homecoming festivities, the Spirit Association sponsored a very successful chili feed and skit, and helped in producing a great dance under the theme of "It's a Cougar's World." They then went on to boost school spirit by yelling loudly at all the games and matches, and by having car washes and bake sales.
This year for homecoming the Lettermen presented a skit based on Captain Kangaroo. This proved to be a big success. They raised money in the fall by selling ink pens in our school colors with the football schedule written on each. The Lettermen's Club also sponsored a Donkey Basketball game in the Dryden Gym between the faculty and members of the club.
