We Are Pleased to Dedicate the 1977 Lecapi to Peter Van Zeyl and Mr. Jim Larson

Peter Van Zyle came to Leavenworth as an exchange student from Australia during the last trimester of 1976. The first thing people noticed about him was his slight accent and his politeness. Throughout the year, Peter changed in many ways and became very Americanized. Peter was very active in school and lettered in Golf. Peter made a lot of friends, and will be missed. So, good luck Peter, we will all miss you.
Mr. Larson came to Leavenworth in 1972 from Tonasket. He teaches various kinds of English classes. He is also the adviser to the Drama and Bicentennial clubs and was also the Lecapi adviser in the first couple of years he was here. This year’s Seniors has dedicated the Lecapi to Mr. Larson for all the help and support he has given us throughout the year. So Thank You very much and better luck next year.
L.H.S. has grown in the past four years—in enrollment, but more important it has grown in attitude of students and programs in their behalf! The class of '77 has played a major roll in expanding activities and improving instruction. Classes to graduate in the future will have quality and quantity with which to work. The challenge ahead for the class of '77 is greater than ever—please accept these suggestions: Consider continued education (college or technical), make every effort to become a concerned, productive citizen. Accept responsibility, enjoy life, and remember L.H.S.! GOOD LUCK TO ALL!

Tom Pickett, District Principal

The Constitution of the United States contemplates government by discussion, with all citizens participating in it. The members of a political community do not have to agree with one another — the First Amendment, which deals with freedom of speech, assumes that Americans will not — but they do need to understand one another. Our public schools must include, as a primary purpose for their existence, the goal to teach language that will enable the youth to communicate as men and women. Hopefully, through communication, individuals will obtain a sense of self, an understanding of others, a recognition of where and what they are, a sense of from whence they came, and of who and what they might become.

Raymond W. Tupling, District Superintendent

The Class of 1977 has seen many changes in their four years at Leavenworth High. I hope that, for the most part, they have been good changes - ones which have helped their growth both educationally and socially. It is hoped that as the "days of high school" get pushed back in their minds farther and farther that each and every person can remember something they learned in a class. or did in a skit, or a friendship they made that will bring back a smile. I wish for each student, especially the Seniors, that the year 1976-77 is not the end but the beginning.

Those Were the Days

Those were the days, the wonderful days of dressing up and acting goofy.

Leavenworth has a traditional welcome for the freshmen. In previous years, upper classmen took advantage of lower classmen. Now, every year, the freshmen have their own special day. The Seniors decide what the freshmen have to wear. This year, the girls had to wear a garbage sack and men’s boxer shorts. Their makeup was different with 77 red stripes on their legs and greasy hair. They also had to wear their favorite number on their backs. The boy’s had to wear toga’s, makeup, pincurls, a pie pan on their heads and they couldn’t forget their pull toy.

But the freshmen get revenge. The Seniors sell themselves to raise money for the Senior Trip. The purpose of both activities is to bring the school together and to have fun.

CLOCKWISE, FROM TOP: Joanna Hill and Kathy Roberts rest up after the slave sale. The Marx brothers, Sue Langlois, Cindy Cunha and Pam Pathe also put in an appearance. Freshman, Steve Covert seems a little camera shy. Brian Cooper takes his books to class in his little red wagon. The “four-legged race” gives Katherine Ghering, Patty McGill, and Brenda Brewer a bit of trouble. Kevin Larson is the Senior’s official banjo picker.
Puffs Get Tough
This year the girls had their own football game. The Seniors vs. the Juniors. It was exciting, not just to play, but to watch. The Juniors lost 36 to 6.

Christmas Tolo a Success
Snow Queen, Dawn Reigns Over a Snowless Winter

On the evening of November 22nd Lisa Kelley, Tami George, Cindy Cunha, Dawn Babiar, & Linda Wechselberger participated in a pageant to be chosen as the 1976-77 Snow Queen & Princess. During the course of the evening the girls gave prepared talks, answered impromptu questions, and had the opportunity to model extravagant evening wear. The climax of the evening was reached when Dawn Babiar was crowned as Snow Queen. Lisa Kelley was named her princess, and they both received a 2-Piece outfit compliments of Mt. Products and Pacific Trail. The girls reigned over the Christmas Lighting Ceremony, which was fun for all. Later, the girls had the experience of advertising Leavenworth on television. All in all, regardless of the lack of snow, Dawn and Lisa both had an unforgettable time!
Lecapi Staff Something Special

Each year, the LECAPI staff tries to capture the people and events which make the year special. This is an important task, and I hope those students who accepted the responsibility and put forth the effort understand that they are a big part of what made 1977 special.

Journalism Requires Many Talents

There is much work entailed in producing a newspaper. This year’s staff, advised by Mr. Lietz, continually produced the bi-weekly, LHS Voice. The reporters, typists, artists, printers and ad salespersons all do important jobs and often put in extra hours outside of class.

Production takes organization and by the end of the year the Voice became easier to put together because of the classes’ experience. Yes, they receive criticism but they print the news and get the job done.

Homecoming is to welcome back our alumni; this year, the classes of '27, '37, '47, '57, and '67. Homecoming is a time when everyone can get together and reminisce about their high school days.

Homecoming '77 was a great success; almost everyone participated and that made it more thrilling.

The week started off with each class having windows to be painted. Monday was also pajama day and hush day for the boys. The boys could not talk to the girls all day or they lost their button. Everyone also wore his pajamas. Tuesday was hush day for the girls and hat and sock day. Everyone wore his favorite hat and socks. Wednesday, everyone dressed as their favorite hero.

A pot luck for the football players was held that night, and the seniors stayed out all night to guard the bonfire. Even though the bonfire was lit twice before it was supposed to be, Thursday night it went up with a roar.

That day was button day, everyone wore as many buttons as they could get. Friday was the traditional red and black day. The game was held that night. Unfortunately, the Grizzlies lost to Lake Roosevelt.

Saturday night was the coronation of the Homecoming Queen, Anitra Foust. This was followed with a social hour and a dance featuring Black Zephyr. Each year, Homecoming gets to be bigger and better and will continue to do so.
People Make Music

LHS has over 100 people involved in our school's music programs. There are many talented musicians in our school deserving recognition. Director Steve Ross has his hands full working with and directing pep band, Jazz band, concert and marching band, choir, and swing choir. His dedicated efforts and the many hard working individuals, continuously, throughout the school year, get it together and produce a fine finished product.

FROM TITLE, CLOCKWISE: Mark Salgado, One of the many trumpet players at LHS. Mr. Ross directs choir as Jane Osborne accompanies. Robb Collins, member of band and jazz band, plays the sax. To the immediate right, the band and choir officers try to discuss something. Above them, the pep band adds spirit to an assembly. Finally, Chris Bailey soloing on the drums.
Hours of Practice, Miles of Marching

The LHS Band did a lot of marching this year, participating in three parades and Homecoming. This is not something you just go out and do. It takes routines, a lot of cooperation, and often a lot of yelling.

Additions to the band are made when they march, such as the majorettes, twirlers, and flagcarriers. The majorette this year was Shannon Pilkinton who also plays the coronet. There were two head twirlers this year, Anitra Foust and Dawn Babiar. Kayla Dyment, Mary Kay Parton, Angela Foust and Tammy Marson were also twirlers. Flagcarriers this year were Debby Seton, Lisa Stoner, Cindy Blackburn, and Terri Cunha.

RIGHT: The band marches down Leavenworth’s main street during Autumn Leaf Festival; it was very warm and those black outfits made it worse. BELOW RIGHT: The flag carriers, Terri, Lisa, Cindy, and Debby, in their new costumes. Smiling in the center, Shannon Pilkinton, majorette, is a very nice addition to the marching band. Finally, the twirlers, Anitra, Dawn, Tammy, Mary, Angela, and Kayla, for once are all together. Because of scheduling conflicts, they never twirled together as a complete set of six.
“In Concert” Style

Concerts, too, take much preparation. Pictured on these pages are Swing Choir, Band, Choir, and Jazz Band. These groups made many appearances this year including Fall, Christmas, and Spring Concerts and participation in the North Central Washington contests.

This year, some individuals tried out for All-Northwest Band and Choirs. Shannon Pilkinton and Kayla Dyment, cornet, and Val Turner, flute, were selected as alternates for the band. Tammy Marson, soprano, and Enid Williams, alto, were selected as alternates for the choir. There were also many instrumental and vocal soloists who entered NCW Solo and Ensemble contests.

Swing Choir was brought into the curriculum this year. Previously, it was a before-school activity and participation was low. It now involves more enthusiastic vocalists who are pleased with their new recognition.

Yes, music is a part of life, and this is slowly being recognized at LHS.
The cheerleaders did a lot more for our school than is recognized. They spent hours before and after school practicing, planning pep assemblies, painting signs, and rewarding our team members with refreshments, after practices.

We want to say "Thanks" to all the cheerleaders because we appreciate what you did for us all through the year!

Vickie Martensen, Edie Finchum, and Jennie Christenson supported the Junior Varsity teams; they are also to be commended for their support of the Varsity. Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders work hard together to promote school spirit; here they are excited and ready for the up-coming game. At this pep assembly, coaches compete in a carmel-apple eating contest; thanks to the cheerleaders, Mr. Koch gets a carmel-onion, remember?

Grizzlies Fought Hard Despite 1-8 Season

The 1976 Grizzly football season was characterized by ups and downs, highs and lows. High points came with intense spirit and desire expressed by the team in their play against the league leaders. The Grizzlies regularly displayed esprit de corps and fought hard at all times. But the team was handicapped throughout the season by untimely injuries and illnesses.

Before the first game, the team's only quarterback, Rod Granger, was taken out because of a shoulder injury. He was replaced by Jim McKinney and Max McEachern neither having had much experience. Then Jim was injured in the 3rd game, leaving Max by himself.

The slot back, Rick Emmons, was taken out early in the season with an ankle injury and replaced by Dan Endrizzi. Rick returned in the 3rd game, but was taken out in the 6th (to remain out for the rest of the season) with another ankle injury.

Consequently, the record does not necessarily reflect the skill, competence and enthusiasm of the 1976 Grizzlies.

JV Has Perfect 1-0 Season

The Leavenworth JV Football team ended their 1976 season with a perfect 1-0 win, loss record by beating Peshastin-Dryden 42-12. Mike Clark coached these rough football players to their success. The players responsible for this hard-fought win were: Jim McKinney, Curtis Moore, Rick Emmons, Eric Wechselberger, Rob Renberg, David Turner, Paul Melton, Scott Darlington, Dan Jones, Derry Donoghue, Chris Ostella, Mark Salgado, Kurt Dickenson, Tony Brim, Butch Baker. The spirit of soccer ’76 soared sky high. Even though the team only played one school, Ephrata, it was a hard season. Seventeen girls turned out, showing strong points in many different areas. Coach Marson said, “I enjoyed working with the team because they never gave up during the game. They showed spirit.”

The girls fought very hard through the whole season and suffered many bumps and bruises. The girls were not quite undefeated, but they were very happy with their 2-1-2 win loss record.

Soccer Team Sets High Goals

Girls Miss District Playoffs by One

At the beginning of the season, the girl's basketball team was excited and ready; the team had a promising future.

The team started by placing second in the Carbio Trail Jamboree, losing only one game to Cashmere; basketball season was officially open.

The girls finished the season with a six-four league standing and missed going to the district playoffs by one game which they lost to Ephrata. The girls also played Peshastin-Dryden twice, winning both games, bringing the season standing to eight-four.

Since only two members of the team will be graduating, next year should be even more exciting. There has been a great deal more interest shown in the last couple of years; there should be more next year, and the girls will be going all the way to state.

Courage, determination, and pride kept the LHS 76-77 basketball team going. Coach Seidenburg was overwhelmed by their continual efforts, and "they never gave up". Despite the 19-1 season the good memories will last forever. When we remember the 76-77 season we'll remember, the great bunch of guys, the dedicated cheerleaders, the stats and scorekeepers, Jo Cowan, Kellee Knowles and Tammy Marson, the manager Mark Salgado, the taco feed, the standing ovation for Rod Granger as he left the gym with a re-dislocated shoulder, Senior Colin Brines last home game where he scored 23 points, the victory over Tonasket that shook their chances for district . . .

Yes, we saw illness and injuries which brought up Scott Darlington and Eric Wechselburger from J.V. at the end of the season but they survived and they still have that LHS pride.

JV Girls Gain Experience

The JV Girls Basketball Team had many ups and downs during the season. They had a fairly young squad consisting of four freshmen, three sophomores, and three juniors. Even though they were young, they showed talent.

This was also coach Sam Wilsey’s first season. He said of the team, “I enjoyed working with them. They have potential for the future.” Even though they only won three games, the team worked hard and gained experience.

The JV team, coached by Pat Fromm who was assisted by Sam Wilsey, had a promising season. The young team captured a 6-14 win-loss season. They played some rough games during their long season and with almost half the team being freshmen they’ve got lots to look forward to.

The Team: Front; Brett Mcguire, Greg Weaver, Eric Wechselberger, Randy Marson and Lane Lathrop. Middle; Lance Fromm, David Rayfield, Robby Bane, Rod Darlington and Coach Pat Fromm. Back; Craig Wisemore, Steve Covert Kenton Brine, Curtis Moore and Clint Hollingsworth.

Wrestlers Make Great Progress,
Ken Haugh to State

Our Grizzly Wrestlers bettered their season this year with a 14-5 win/loss record. Despite losing Gerry Coffin, Rob Renberg, and Bill Reynolds earlier in the season, the entire Varsity went to Sub-Regionals and placed Sixth out of the Fourteen teams there. Never-the-less, two emerged onto Regionals and one continued to State.

Volleyball an Action Sport

This year's volleyball team consisted of about 17 girls. They were coached by Sam Wilsey. This was his first year at coaching volleyball so it was a learning experience for both the girls and the coach. At the beginning of the season there were a few personality conflicts but they were soon worked out and they were working as a team. The team and Coach Wilsey had a most memorable season.

The Lettermens Club started off the year by having a concession stand over Autumn Leaf. The money made helped go toward the purchase of a video-tape machine, which is now in use. They are planning on putting on a donkey basketball game this spring.

Pep Club started off this year with our annual Football potluck. Later on in the year, the enthusiastic girls made red and black pillows for the Senior boys who were in sports during their years at LHS. The pillows had all the sports that the boys were in, which the girls had embroidered themselves. Many hours after school were spent putting them together. They were presented at the awards banquet. Some future plans the pep club have are, putting on a potluck for the Basketball players and Wrestlers. They also added a point system to the constitution which will go into effect next year. Pep Club officers this year are: Pres. J. Hill, V. Pres. V. Kehoe, Treas. J. Anderson, Sec. B. Brewer.

Letterman’s Club Officers: Lorie Ostella, Sheri Anderson, Ken Haugh and Don Alexander.

Kurt Delamore, Paul Krakovsky represented Leavenworth at Boys State. Pam Pathe represented Leavenworth at Girls State. Boys and Girls State was held in Ellensburg. Masonic Awards were given to Laura Granger and Colin Brine. Four days were spent at Stehekin with Mr. Larson, and Mr. Wilcox cooking their well planned and well balanced meals. Mr. Pickett, Mr. McGuire, Mr. Lietz, Mall Boyd were speakers. They encountered 29 Bee stings and much rain. But out of all the hardship it was a blast!

The Freshman of 1980 had a lot of fun. On Initiation Day, the girls wore pie tins on their heads garbage bags for shirts, mens jockey shorts for shorts, their fathers logging boots, greased hair, red lines on their legs, and of course signs saying 77 the Best.

The guys wore nylons, tennis shoes, pie tins, sheets, signs saying Seniors are No. 1. This year the Frosh won first place for their float, with the theme of 200 years of Freshman 1780-1980.

A Successful Year for ASB

The Student Council has worked hard together this year to put forth changes to better our school. Constitutional changes, organizing of the mini sessions, and the selling hats, buttons and mittens are some of the many projects which were worked on. The ASB also put on the Christmas Tolo which was a great success. This example of success should be a goal for the future ASB to come.

Peter Van Zeyl

Mr. Ross would like to congratulate the class of '77 for their hard work and persistence. It has been gratifying to work with the class on an individual basis and a challenge to work with the class as a whole. I often feel that I have learned a great deal from my association with this class. I would like to thank those officers of the senior class with whom I have had the opportunity to work. I have found you to be hard-working, intelligent, and sincerely interested in the class welfare. My sincerest good wishes go with each of you.

Mr. Larson feels that working with the class of Seventy-seven for four years as the class advisor has been an unforgettable experience! Every class meeting has heralded another challenge.

This group is one of the most energetic avaricious, frequently enjoyable and sometimes exasperating, groups which I’ve had the pleasure of working with.

Once away from the restraints of structured school life, each of them will, surely, go on to greater and better accomplishments on the climb to fame!
