Be glad about life
Because it gives you the chance
To laugh, and to cry,
And to find understanding
Through people around you.
The time is now
These moments shall never pass again
And when they're gone
I'll have all this to look back on
I'll recall the joy,
The happiness, the tears, the sadness
Friends we had, things we did
The moments we shared that showed we cared
Each day a little of what we learned.
Silently searching through our minds
For memories of the years
Knowing only of the life we leave behind
And how it went so fast
Passing our lives before our eyes
Foggy visions of faces, places, and loves
Worries behind, challenges ahead.
There are some things
You can't do alone:
You need a friend.
One of the criteria for judging high school yearbooks is how much work is actually done by students. Too often the title “editor” is empty; the advisor tells the staff what to do or simply does it himself. I am extremely proud of this year’s staff, because they took over and have done everything themselves. The staff (Debbie Wicks, Peggy Bennett, Shannon Pilkinton, Lisa Ogle, Tammy Marson, Brett McGuire, Joanna Cowan and Jeff Townley) made decisions, took and printed pictures, wrote copy and generally worked like crazy to produce a fine yearbook.

This has been a year of change for LECAPI; summer delivery, color, emphasis on leadership and student life, and for the first time lecap is not a class; the only credit which the staff receives is what the readers give them. Lisa and Tammy, the editors, especially deserve appreciation for the countless hours and dedication they gave this book.

There Are Leaders at LHS!

At LHS we attend classes, participate in clubs, music, and sports. However, there are many people involved in something that is often overlooked... leadership. A specific definition of a leader is difficult because we see such variety in our leaders, but it is time to recognize their importance.

LHS has taken many positive steps in making leadership important. The '77-'78 ASB officers, Stewart Gardner, Kellee Knowles, Sheri Anderson, and Tammy Marson, elected last spring (see posters), went to state level leadership camp near Mt. Rainier (far right). They brought back good ideas and a renewed spirit.

The LHS leadership camp, held at Sequim Bay last August, involved 25 students (far left)....
... and five facilitators (top right). The fantastic chefs, Mrs. Wilcox and Mr. Larson (bottom left) also went. The camp was four days of fun, recreation, sight seeing and most important sharing and learning together.

With a solid base and a direction in which to move, LHS students returned to school for a new, exciting year.

So there it is, people involving themselves because they care, people taking on the challenge of being a leader!
Once a person decides to become involved, it is easy to do so at LHS. Whether it's Student Council, a club, a class, or a music group, there is always some type of activity going on that requires cooperation from people willing to work.

Student Council kept people busy with committees such as; Improvement of Instruction, Chamber of Commerce, Mini Sessions, A Hats and Mittens Committee headed by Kayla Dyment and assisted by Lisa Ogle, had the task of selling dozens of LHS hats and mittens (top center). The executive board (above) led the council in improving relations with the student body, community, and neighboring high schools.

Brilliance at LHS
The days of high school seem to fly by fast and in years to come some of the memories will fade. However, the important ones will remain vivid. The relatively short four years of high school are a time of developing values and living in a way that often molds our futures and personalities. The things we said and did, the places we went and the clothes we wore, will all be remembered.

During the 1977 and 1978 L.H.S. students tried to keep up with the many new fashions. Bright coats and vests were in abundance. Girls wore cowl necks, tent jumpers, gouches and the popular boots. At lunch, many took off for the local drive in to have a "Big Dude". Others spent a lot of time at "Smokers Corner" munching or socializing.

These things may seem unimportant now but it was all a part of life at L.H.S.!
Administration

Relationships between teachers and students are continually improving at L.H.S. Learning how to work together, lending a helping hand, and just putting out an all out effort to be a friend is constantly changing relations between teachers and students on campus.

This year's staff consisted of many familiar faces and one new one. Joining the staff this year is Mr. Don Douglass, who teaches math and science. The faculty and administration involved themselves in many activities along with activities of their own. Pep assemblies, teacher workshops and being class and club advisors kept most of the staff busy. Over Autumn Leaf the L.E.A. had a booth to start a scholarship fund for graduating seniors. Many teachers involved themselves in community schools and community activities.

Middle: Mrs. Cowan and Mr. Koch are both interested in craftsmanship (Mrs. Cowan can talk it in French). Although the freshmen started out a little slowly financially, many projects; sponsoring dances, selling concessions, and working at the Christmas Lighting Ceremony helped to add to their treasury.

The freshman class, the class of 1981, believes that it is very important to work with the Student Council as a class. The freshman class officers, Chuck Segle, Judie Satterfield, and Don Berry did their best to keep a steady flow of communications between Student Council and their class.

A large number of freshmen participated in the L.H.S. sports program this year, something of which they are quite proud.

The sophomores (the class of "80") showed a lot of spirit this year in many activities; they won a prize for the best float in the Autumn Leaf Festival Parade and tied with the juniors for Homecoming week skit competition.

The class officers; President Kenton Brine, Vice President Brett McGuire, Secretary Jenni Dirkse, and Treasurer Steve Covert are all optimistic about next year. Said Kenton of his class, "We've had some problems, but we have always been able to work them out. We've raised some money, but we've still got a long way to go in order to have a good prom when we are juniors. I hope we can continue to work together to benefit ourselves and L.H.S."

The junior class started the year off with a feeling of confidence when they successfully sponsored their second beef raffle. Tickets were sold during the fall, and when the football season ended a winner was drawn. The profits are being used for the Spring Prom which the juniors will hopefully host at the Thunderbird.

The juniors have established a new system for class meetings which has been very successful. Participation, involvement, and fun with a goal are the main objectives. Class officers are justifiably proud of the class the group effort continue through their senior year.

The community of Leavenworth attracts thousands of people during the Autumn Leaf Festival. Students of LHS contribute to the success of our Bavarian Village's festival by participating in the parade.

In preparation for the parade, the LHS band with its twirlers and flag and banner carriers puts in many early morning practices. Only two classes made it successfully through the class float competition. The junior class truck broke down and the seniors did not enter.

The schools efforts are appreciated by the visitors and community and they hope LHS continues to participate in future festivals.
Major David Turner (far left) lines up the band while the twirlers wait patiently. Mr. Ross (center) doesn’t only direct the band, he hems pants too. The junior float that never made it and the class of “80’s” which won first. Finally, the LHS marching band and Homecoming royalty.
Wasn’t It Fun?!

From the look on all these freshman faces it is evident that initiation was fun. The scenes pictured here show just some of the trials and tests the freshman had to go through to hold up the age old tradition of freshman initiation. The days dress for the guys included; gunny sacks and bikini tops, and for the girls; any old shirt, long underwear, logging or snowmobile boots, and their faces had to be painted white with red ‘78 on it.

The reason for this day is to let the Seniors have some fun and to show the freshmen who’s boss. Even so the freshmen have a chance to retaliate on Senior slave day.
This is the Spirit of LHS
Cheerleaders, our school fight song played by the pep band, a pep talk, maybe even a guest appearance from Elvis (Tex Welch), was a typical scene at a pep assembly this year. All the excitement, intended to arouse the spirit of LHS students, added life to a normal school day.

The Pep Club (top right) supplies athletes with goodies and also held some potlucks. The L Club (far left) had a booth at Autumnleaf which was their money maker for the year.

To be successful, one needs support, which was usually always available at LHS!
After winning only one game prior to Homecoming, the Grizzlies were hungry for a win. Okanogan, ranked fifth in the state, was surprised as the Grizzlies ran them all over the field, winning 19-6. LHS went on to beat Liberty Bell the following week.

Homecoming 1978 was a time for the classes of '28, '38, '48, '58, and '68 to reminisce their high school days.

Homecoming week started out with many exciting events. The students at L.H. S. were seen with frizzy hair, dressed in cowboy, hick and Halloween costumes. There was also class competition that involved painting windows, dressing up and yelling contests.

Wednesday night was the annual guarding of the bonfire. Everything was going well as they, the Seniors, were tucked in. That is in their motor homes. Until the bonfire went up in flames. Little damage was done since the seniors were quick with the hoses.

Everyone showed their spirit Friday night at the game as they rooted the grizzlies on to victory in the RAIN!!!

Everything managed to get off the ground on time as all were dressed up and ready to go to the dance Saturday night.

Thanks to all who helped out. It made Homecoming a success.

Volleyball, Next Year’s Hopefuls

This year’s volleyball team finished with a 6-7 win-loss record. Coach Marson has high hopes for next year’s team because everyone will be returning, including Kellee Knowles, who was named to the Caribou Trail All Star Team. Team members from left to right, top row are; Assistant Coach Don Douglas, Kellee Knowles, Julie Satterfield, Lisa Tonge, Laurie Nelson, Lori West, Teri Parkins, Brenda Magert, Debbie Butler, Jesslyn Hill, and Coach Margaret Marson. The 1977-78 LHS VOICE was written especially for this year's student body. Every article written was geared toward the student in an effort to keep him or her up to date on current LHS happenings. With the help of new equipment like the xerox machine, which made it possible to use photographs and which also eliminated the use of stencils, we the Voice staff feel this has been the best paper LHS ever had.

Winter Brings Many Activities
When the air cooled, and the snow started to fall, L.H.S. began the winter season with enthusiasm. To start things off, the Snow Queen and Princess were selected to preside over the upcoming winter events. Queen Jenny Christensen and Princess Laurie Dempsey, (upper left) chosen from a field of five candidates including Lisa Ogle, Sheri Anderson and Candi Watson. (opposite) Entertainment on selection night included the L.H.S. Stage Band, (middle left) the Swing Choir and the Tyrolean Band.

Soon after that, the second annual Christmas Tolo, sponsored by the Student Council, was held at the Osborne Auditorium. The group featured, "The Rite;" was a great success and enjoyed by all who attended. Parson's Studio took pictures and refreshments were served.
The boys Basketball team and many supporters showed their spirit and enthusiasm through the entire season. This year's new coach, Sam Willsey, led the team to a 4-16 win-loss record, two of which were over our rivals, P-D. In many of the games victory was within their grasp by only a few points.

Pictured clockwise are; David Rayfield going up for two; Rod Granger on a drive; Don Alexander and Moritz Schiebler take the rebound out of the hands of two Cashmere players; Rod Granger and Dan Gough show teamwork; the varsity boys get ready for a game; Scott Kline shows form as he shoots the ball; Coach Willsey looks on. Girls Go To District
The girls varsity had an exciting 15 win-5 loss season. Seven returning lettermen, two additional players and a new coach, Howard Cook, put together an 8-1 league record which placed them in a three-way tie for first place. At district, they defeated
Omak the first night and lost to Liberty Bell by one point in a heartbreaker. A victory would have sent them to state.

The team is looking forward to next year as they are only losing one player.
They'll get them next time in '79!

Girls Show Spirit . . .

Spirit Spirit a let's hear it!! That was just one of the many chants you could hear this year's cheerleaders saying.

Sheri Anderson, Melissa Tupling and Kerri Franklin were this year's wrestling cheerleaders. Football Cheerleaders were Jennie Christenson, Sheri Anderson, Patty McGill, Val Guy, Kerri Franklin, Toni Haugh, Melissa Tupling and Vicki Martensen. Jennie, Vicki, Val and Julie Anderson were Varsity Basketball, with Laurie Dempsey, Mary Parton, and Deb Buttler as J.V. Sara McGee, SueAnne Ells and Karlyn Gehring.

All these girls did a great job whether they were cheering in the rain or trying to keep up the spirit when we were losing.

THANKS GIRLS YOU DID A GREAT JOB!!!

Cheerleaders, and "C" Squad Cheerleaders.
Musicians of LHS
At this high school, music is a part of many students lives. Whether they play the guitar, sing in choir or participate in an instrumental group, they all spend hours practicing and performing during the school year.

Here, we capture many of the students who have made music something special.
Some of them have gone beyond the classroom and have participated in musical functions out of the school.

Pictured to the left are participants in the NCW Solo and Ensemble Contest;
Tammy Marson, vocal solo; Renee Lampe, french horn and vocal solos; Brenda Megert, flute solo; Kayla Dyment, trumpet solo; Sandi Aldrich, vocal solo;
Shannon Pilkinton, trumpet solo; Debbie Saimons and Shari Fritz, flute duet.
Pictured in the panel are honored musicians. Kayla and Shannon were selected to a national honor band and were offered a European tour. Renee and Vicki played in a state honor band at a WSU game. Tammy sang in the All-State choir that performed in Yakima in February.
Performing Groups Involve Many Education Is Our Purpose
The purpose of our school system is to try to prepare and educate all students for a future life. Many students realize this and work hard to maintain grade points and take a real interest in some of their classes.

The Masonic Award is awarded to Juniors who show leadership, scholarship and service qualities, each year. David Turner, Rick Emmons, Shannon Pilkinton and Tammy Marson were recognized at the annual banquet this spring as being LHS outstanding Juniors. Kellee Knowles and Rob Reneberg, by decision of the Masonic Committee, were awarded trophies for being the top Juniors.

Attending Boys and Girls State during last summer were Laurie Dempsey and John Boyce. Juniors Shannon Pilkinton and Rob Renberg will be attending the '78 session. The week-long experience is very educational and delegates also have fun.

Pictured to the left are some of our most studious students. Don Erikson was actually caught studying, while Stewart Gardner and Rick Emmons realize that the true purpose of French I is to play pattycake?!
When you walk into a classroom at LHS these are a few of the things you might see. At the top of the page we find Jana Baird and Patty McGill entertaining children in the child development class. To the right we see Kevin Franklin, Derry Donahue and Pat Lemons preparing for the Home Ec Turkey Dinner. Next is "Tex" Welch playing a tune on his guitar. Below Tex, Kenton Brine and Jesslyn Hill demonstrate their woodworking skills on the lathe. To the left we see Brad Burgess working with his hands in Pottery class. The last class we visit is the Biology class where we find Mary Kay Parton dissecting a worm. (UGH!)
Classroom Life
You Light Up My Life

Held in the Wenatchee River Room of the Thunderbird Inn in Wenatchee, the '78 Junior-Senior Prom was really something special. It was well attended by students and faculty. School board members also dropped in. Advisors of the Junior class, Mr. Stroup, Mrs. Milne, and Mr. Turner (right), were there to keep things going smooth but found themselves enjoying it without any problems.

The evening began after Mr. Pickett announced the Prom King and Queen, Don Alexander and Denise Clark (above). They danced to the theme song "You Light Up My Life" sung by Echo. The band was one of the best bands ever to come to a LHS dance.

Prom Chairman Tammy Marson said the Junior class worked hard and she was happy with the results. "I'm sure the memories of this prom will be many students best memories of the year!"
Musicians Receive Recognition
The 2nd annual music awards banquet honored many of the LHS music students. The banquet was well attended and generous amounts of food were devoured.

Director Steve Ross handed out numerous awards and received a token of appreciation from the choir. Band awards were: service, Shannon Pilkinton; most improved, Jim Ward. Choir awards were: service, Enid Williams and Tammy Marson; most improved, Brett McGuire. Stage Band awards were: service, Kayla Dyment; most improved, Greg Weaver. The All-Music Award went to Renee Lampe.

Band officers, Shannon Pilkinton, Vicki Martensen and Jeff Townley and choir officers, Enid Williams, Brett McGuire and Tammy Marson, also received recognition.

It was an enjoyable evening and many thanks are extended to the music parents.
Spring Brings Out The Beauties
Springtime means festivals and parades. Students of LHS participate in both. The band, plus added attractions, marched in the Apple blossom parade in Wenatchee. Flagcarriers-Fawn Kazara, Lisa Stoner, Tammy Brim and Marie Saunders; Twirlers-Jana Baird, Tammy Marson, Mary Parton and Kayla Dyment; and Majorette Shannon Pilkinton, add pizzaz to the band. The band placed well on the beautiful parade day.

Leavenworth elected Lisa Ogle to reign over Mai-fest. The weekend brought a number of spectators who danced in the street and bought refreshments from the many booths. The sophomore class and basketball players both had booths and profited well. Queen Lisa kept smiling all weekend even when it rained.
Golfers Go To State!
The fantastic golf team of LHS put together a super effort to make 1978 a great season. They finished up the year with a 12-2 win-loss record. They then went to district to defeat Omak, Quincy, and Cashmere, winning the honor of competing in the state tournament. Of the four above named schools, Ken Baumann and Scott Weston triumphed as first and second medalist in district play. At state, the team had a rather unfortunate day and didn’t fare so well.

Good luck goes to our graduating seniors, Ken Baumann, Scott Weston and Jeff Townley.

The baseball team finished the season with an 8-6 win-loss record, placing us second in our division. Unfortunately only the number one team is allowed to go to the playoffs. Coach Cowan and the returning team are looking forward to that chance next year.

Track Makes Progress
The LHS track team had a good, long and fun season. The team, one of the biggest in years, had some team victories in two and three-way meets. The team will only lose a few boys, so next year promises to be a good one.

Many individuals did well, improving throughout the season. The girls 440 relay, Tammy Marson, Vicki Martenson, Kellee Knowles and Melissa Tupling, went to district and placed third, also breaking the school record. Sophomores, Brett McGuire and Craig Wisemore, both went to district in the sprints. Ken Haugh, Kellee and Melissa also went in field events and Vicki in the hurdles. LHS qualified four for state this year. Kellee, Ken (4th place Javelin), Melissa (9th place Discus) and Brett (7th place 440).

Grizzly athletes received recognition for their efforts, inspiration and hard work during the sports season. Awards were: Football-Captain, Don Alexander; Most Inspirational, Curtis Moore; Most Improved, David Rayfield; Boys Basketball-Captain, Rod Granger; Vic Gehring Memorial Award, Curtis Moore; Keith Dickinson Memorial Award, Max McEachern; Wrestling-Captain, Ken Haugh; Paul Bradshaw Memorial Award, Tony Brim; Most Improved, Chuck Segle; Baseball-Most Improved, Darren Weaver; Most Inspirational, Curtis Moore and Max McEachern; Golf-District Captain, Scott Weston; Boys Track-Captain, Ken Haugh; Most Improved, Brett McGuire; Girls Track-Captain, Kellee Knowles; Most Improved, Sarah McGee; Volleyball-Captain, Kellee Knowles; Most Improved, Sarah McGee; Girls Basketball-Captain, Kellee Knowles; Most Valuable Player, Joanna Cowan; Most Improved, Kayla Dyment.

Where service is a fact, not a promise.
This year has been a real mixture of joys, disappointments, laughter and tears. Being my last year at LHS I found myself sad and sentimental a lot of the time because I was leaving something I had grown very close to over the years. Looking back, I try to pick out things that were important to me and stand out in my mind. I guess my freshman and senior years are the ones I remember and enjoyed the most. Our freshman year— it was our beginning. I think if someone asked me to describe our freshman year in one word it would be experimental. Even though we were at the bottom of the totem pole, we weren't afraid to take chances and try new things. Our senior year is the end of our high school days, but the beginning of a new life. Our senior year consisted of many mixed emotions and actions. I'm not sure how every one else felt, but I wanted to try to do everything. I mean this was my LAST YEAR! Being involved in different activities and being with my friends made my senior year as busy as possible. As Editor of the 1978 Lecapi, I learned more about the different activities and how important they were to each person involved. We tried to cover and represent every activity that happened during the school year. I hope that you find this year’s annual as complete as we tried to make it.

I would like to thank the following people for their help, devotion and support through the year. First I would like to thank the staff for not walking out on me when I would have one of my temper tantrums (Brett especially knows how that goes). Special thanks to Tammy, who always stuck by my side and was always there to hear me scream, “Our deadline is coming up! What are we going to do! We’re not ready!” I’d like to thank Dean Parsons for all his help in taking and printing some of the pictures we needed. Mr. Pickett and Mr. McGuire, thanks for all the times you trusted us to work on our own. Thanks to Miles and Jane Turnbull, who had their own deadline, but managed to help us out when we needed them. Thanks a whole bunch to the ASB for their financial support. Last of all I’d like to thank you the students for buying a Lecapi. After all, you’re what it’s all about! Good-bye and good luck!

Another year of our lives has become memories and history. I’m quickly realizing that high school is just a short period in our lives that passes swiftly.

Since my freshman year, I’ve been very involved with this school because I knew that opportunities such as these in high school will not be available for me after I graduate. It is important to me to make the best of these four years and being on the Lecapi Staff has been one of my involvement priorities. Besides it being a challenge, I find working on the annual very self-satisfying and rewarding. I’ve spent many hours taking pictures, drawing layouts and working in that cramped dark room trying to capture and record all the events of the school year. We try to create a book that will interest all 240+ students. It’s hard work but I think an annual, a permanent record, is worth it. We’ll have it for years for reminiscing.

You must have desire, determination and patience to work on an annual. We worked through and survived many difficult situations this year because of our determination to produce a book for you. I feel that a part of my life is in this book and I hope you enjoy it. I’d like to thank the staff for their hard work and extend my special appreciation to Lisa Ogle. She was great to work with and she will be missed next year.

As we close the cover of another book and another year, we’ll remember it as a special one, Lecapi '78!
