Looking through some photographs

I found inside a drawer

I was taken by a photograph of you
While the loneliness seems to spring from your life.

Like a fountain from a pool
Fountain of sorrow
fountain of life

You've known that hollow sound of your own
steps in flight

You were turnin' around to see who was behind you

And I took your childish
laughter by surprise
And at the moment that my camera happened to find you
There was just a trace of sorrow in your eyes

L.H.S. Loses Leader

It is only appropriate, as we the Leconi staff see it, to dedicate the 1980-81 Leconi to the man, who in one way or another touched the lives of every student and staff member here at L.H.S. The man who made us what we are and showed us what we could be. Most of all, he was our dear friend.

Mr. McGuire, moved to Leavenworth with his family in 1972. He was Athletic Director for five years and Principal for two years. He coached track and was always around to support many organizations.

The shocking news of Mr. McGuire's death affected a great number of people who had come to know and love him during his years here in Leavenworth. He was a great leader whose qualities are seldom duplicated.

New Attire
For L.H.S.

Homecoming was especially fun and entertaining this year with a spirited week of Toga Day, Punk Rock Day, Tourist Day, Hick Day, and the traditional Red and Black Day. The Bonfire was a subject of special interest, at least for the seniors, because the first two enormous structures were burned down before the planned date. Queen, Tammy Balt-era, reigned at this year's homecoming victory in which the Grizzlies defeated Lake Roosevelt, 49-26. Coronation went smoothly and the fun-packed week ended with the return of "The Machine" at the homecoming dance.
Following the tradition, the seniors won this year's powderpuff game, 32-6. Their motto was "good luck to the better team . . . and good luck to you too juniors." Junior coach, Coach "Coward" Cook claimed in a before game interview, "if big and ugly wins football games, they've got this one in the bag; we're small and beautiful." Both teams agreed it was a lot of fun and met for pizza afterwards to prove there were no sore feelings, only sore bodies.

Freshmen Initiated

Plastic garbage bags, bobby pins, and high heeled shoes could be seen around campus on “Freshmen Initiation Day”. The morning started out with exercises, and for freshmen, went from bad to worse. At lunchtime the main attraction was eggs, baby food, and singing.

To sum up the activities of the day, freshmen were seen skipping onto the football field, getting whip cream pies in the face, singing, and competing in various races.
Festival Time

As usual the annual Autumn Leaf Festival was the chance for all the L.H.S. money makers to get out and boost their treasuries. The Freshmen sold corn, chili, and pop corn. Snow cones and cotton candy kept the Sophomores busy, while Kraut-Kucken, baked potatoes, and corn was the Juniors' specialty. The Seniors were helping the Chamber of Commerce sell german sausage, sauerkraut, and cider.

The other activity at this time was the float competition, which was won by the Sophomore class. They were the only entry this year, and did a very good job.

Assemblies Have Change of Pace

Pep assemblies . . . give cheerleaders ulcers, but ulcers or not, this year's cheerleaders managed to pull off a few amusing episodes. Future Business Leaders of America also produced a well planned, patriotic assembly when they sponsored "American Spirit Day." The assembly featured spirit raising speeches, including one from our Brazilian exchange student Fernando De Lucio and one from Representative Earl Tilly. Throughout the year entertainment was provided by traveling groups such as the Army Band, Eastern Washington University Music Theatre and Pullman High School Orchestra.

"The Oz" Plays at A.S.B. Tolo

Rainbow colors, plus flowers and birds were the majority of the decorations at the annual Tolo, sponsored by student council. The theme "Somewhere Over the Rainbow," was undoubtedly instigated by the fact that the performing band was "The Oz." Kathy Stutesman, Judie Satterfield, Karlyn and Kerri Gehring and Melissa Motteler were in charge of the arrangements for the dance, which turned out to be a success.
Juniors Provide Memorable Prom

"Celebration" time was on April 18, 1981 in the new Wenatchee Convention Center. The ever-popular "Machine" kept everyone dancing amid all kinds of colorful balloons and streamers. Jim Ward and Melissa Motteler reigned as king and queen of this year's prom. Everyone looked great and had a good time. Cecelia Krakovsky and her crew did a wonderful job in arranging this special evening for the seniors.

Visitors Flock to Mai Fest

Junior Miss Kerry Clark and Princess Vicki Renberg reigned over this year's sunny Mai Fest activities. Concessions were available to the hungry tourists through the hard work of the freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior classes. Lecapi also had a booth, as did F.B.L.A. who was working for the Chamber of Commerce. This year’s Junior Miss contestants and visiting royalty helped make the Grand March a big success and the weekend a pleasant one for everyone.

Subjects Varied in LHS Classes

Classes are producing better and better work every year. Journalism produced another year of "The LHS VOICE," foods class prepared a tasty and filling Thanksgiving day meal, music produced a marching band and large stage-band, outdoor education constructed another program for fifth and sixth graders, and the modern marriage class actually conducted a wedding. Students and teachers alike were given a chance to show off their work on "Student Achievement Night" where displays were shown and skits and music were presented.

Students Show Their Stuff

Student Achievement Night was once again sponsored by the L.H.S. students and faculty. Displays were set up for various classes, a skit was presented by the Spanish II class and the stage band gave a performance which everyone enjoyed. Macramé could be seen hanging from the walls and ceiling, computers and their student programmers were in operation and biology even had some girls who were classifying plants. Outdoor Education also set up a lean-to outside while they made hamburgers inside. The evening turned out well and the event will no doubt continue in years to come.

Girls Gain Experience

As the 1980 volleyball season approached, most of the players were looking forward to an excellent year on the nets. They did, however, have some bad luck losing some games by just a few points, as the quality of teams in the league improved. This, in turn, led them to a two win-twelve loss season. Team members taking honors for the Grizzlies this year were: Cecelia Krakovsky and Sarah Magee, co-captains; Marianne Motteler received the coaches award; and Linda Hall was the most inspirational as voted by her team members.

Clark, Julie Satterfield; Tracy Ostell lifts ball into the air while team members watch; Susan Walsdorf drops the ball to save the ball.
"Although the football team was young this season they managed to show character and play some good ball, and I enjoyed coaching them," said Coach John Sanford. He also commented that the coaching staff of Keith Koch and Bob Stroup was very good. The homecoming game, which was played against Lake Roosevelt, ended in a win for Leavenworth. This game and the near upset of Omak were classified as the most exciting games. Those athletes honored at the seasons end were: "most inspirational," Brian Robinson; "coaches award," Mike Mylan; co-captain and "best lineman," Chris Dickinson; co-captain and "best running back," Scott Aldrich.

L.H.S. Compiles New Cross-Country Team

The Leavenworth sports scene had a new addition this year. That addition being a cross-country running team. Although they got off to a late start, it was a first for LHS. According to Coach Ron Wells, "The kids who turned out made it a competitive and respected sport. They were also a great group to work with." The team captain was Chuck Segle and the top runner was Greg Blackburn. The grizzlies only participated in two meets, one at Cashmere and then the league meet. All in all the team did well for the first year and next year should be even stronger.

Dedication and Diligence Pay Off

When the girls’ basketball team began their season this year the highest goal they set was getting to district. The girls accomplished that goal with diligence and dedication, and were very happy. Coach Howard Cook felt they surprised quite a few people and was pleased with their performance.

In the eyes of Mr. Cook, this year’s team was the easiest to coach. “We had real good senior leadership which gave an inspiration to the younger girls who will be moving up next year,” he stated.

With the win-loss record in league and non-league play being 10-12, Mr. Cook feels that the Grizzlies will set the Caribou league back on its heels next year.

J.V. Girls
Look Hopeful

Coach Debbie Porter was very content with her first year of coaching the Leavenworth J.V. Girls' Basketball team. She enjoyed the season, and also getting to know the girls better. It was a learning experience for her, as well as the girls, and she is looking forward to more coaching positions. In her mind there was a dedicated nucleus of girls and they will be good prospects for the future.

Boys Bring Home 8th Place

One of the most exciting events in the history of LHS occurred this year during the State "A" Tournament in Tacoma, WA. All of Leavenworth cheered for the LHS Boys' Basketball Team who came home with an eighth place trophy. Coach Sam Willsey had nothing but praise for the team as he was interviewed, "They played well together, they were the best rebounders and defensive players that I've coached." He also included the fact that "The mark of a good team comes when you are in a situation that you must play well and that is what you do, play well." The season record was 21-7, the league games being 16-4. At district they ended up second in the Caribou league and then it was on to "state." Honors for the team went to: Darren Weaver and Jim Ward, co-captains; "most improved," Mike Rayfield; and Doug Darlington received "most inspirational." David Kimmerly and Darren Weaver were also given "honorable mention" on the all-tournament team at "state," and positions on the all-opponent team for the Caribou league.

* Non-League Games

Each and every player contributed to a fine season for the Boys' Junior Varsity Basketball Team this year. The season record ended at 15-5 which was the best ever since Leavenworth entered the class "A" league. Cashmere was among the teams defeated by the Grizzlies this year. They lost twice to our team, and these were very happy moments for the coach, Pat Fromm. He was proud of the boys' play this year and also wanted to commend the cheerleaders on their support while cheering for the team.
"A landmark year" was the best description Coach Keith Koch could give of this year's wrestling team. The season was full of surprises and also upsets, but all in all it turned out very well. Leavenworth went to district play with a good crew and four went on to state matches. This was the first year we had more than one wrestler place in the top six state positions. State matches were held at the University of Washington, where Chuck Segle took third place, and Greg Tonge received fourth place. The team as a whole rated number 13 out of 49 teams. Chuck Segle and Lonnie Sandelin were honored as team captains this year and Chuck also was awarded "most inspirational." Greg Tonge was the "most improved" wrestler.

The golf team did a good job again this season with a 9-1 record in league matches and 12-2 in overall matches. Coach Douglass said, "the season went exactly as I planned except for two matches." The team had a normal district win, beating Omak by 20 shots, Quincy by 21 and Cashmere by 74. State tournament didn't go as well as everyone hoped, with the team finishing 12th against 15 other AA schools. Randy Davidson was honored as "team captain," Kelly Baumann was "most valuable player," Chuck Segle received "most inspirational" and Judie Satterfield was presented with the "coaches award."

Baseball Future Looks Promising

The 1981 baseball season was not one to be too memorable as the years pass, but one that brought much experience to the young and upcoming team. They won four games throughout the season with the help of Doug Parton, voted team captain, Robbie Ruse, voted most inspirational and Dave Lane, who was most improved. The season wouldn't have been half as fun without the bat girls Tracy Ostella, Karlyn Gehring, Diane Dickinson and Ruth Parsons. Coach Howard Cook feels that Leavenworth will have one of the best pitching staffs in the Caribou Trail League in the next two years.

Track Is Running and Remodeling

Leaving a successful winter sports season behind, the L.H.S. tracksters began the spring season of road running and sprinting with a new assistant coach Debbie Porter. They also had the task of remodeling the old track to regulation size.

It was a year of high hopes and many accomplishments for head coach Ron Wells and his fairly young track team. Over half the team qualified for the district meet and out of them David Kimmerly and April Howell continued on to the state meet held in East Wenatchee. David placed fourth in the 100 meter high hurdles and April did quite well for her first year in the 100 meter low hurdles. Becky Renberg and David Kimmerly were honored as Miss and Mr. Track at the spring sports banquet.

Music Program Under New Instructor

Under the new direction of Mr. Rick McCulley the Leavenworth musicians provided another year of entertainment for parents, sporting fans and adjudicators. Concerts were given in the fall, winter and spring, the pep band played during football and basketball games and band and choir participated in the Northwest Large Group Contest, where both groups received an excellent. The band also marched in the Autumn Leaf, Apple Blossom and Manson parades. Collecting aluminum cans for recycling was the fundraiser for the year. At the closing of the year Music Parents devoted their time and money to sponsor the annual music banquet at the Tumwater. Every student connected with the music program was honored for their talents and the evening turned out well.

LHS Builds Leaders

Leadership plays an important role in any high school and Leavenworth does its share to encourage this responsibility. The 1980-81 Leadership Camp was held at Sequim, Washington. Students and teachers alike spent four days discussing such topics as school moral, academics, athletics, etc. It was a fantastic learning situation for everyone and a fun time was had by all. A foundation for leadership must begin somewhere, and all those who helped pull this together deserve many thanks.

Student Council Helps Organize the System

Associated Student Body of Leavenworth High School spells quite a bit of responsibility for some students. Student Council is a busy organization that must help keep track of classes, clubs, athletics and A.S.B. in general in order for the system to run smoothly. David Kimmerly presided as President, Ken West was Vice-President, Kathy Stutesman served as Secretary and Lisa Asselin kept hold of the books as Treasurer. Some of the activities sponsored by A.S.B. this year were the Spring Tolo and candy sales, which were planned to raise money. Mr. Willsey helped out with his advice at the meetings. Concessions were no longer a problem for student council, as Future Business Leaders of America took over the responsibility of ordering food and finding workers.

Ken West, Vice-President, Kathy Stutesman, Secretary and David Kimmerly, President.
The Senior class of 1981 was very active this year frantically trying to raise money for the senior trip, which was held in Vancouver, B.C. Watching over the class was the President, Sarah Magee, Vice-President, John Kageorge, Secretary, Melissa Motteler and Treasurer, Scott Aldrich. Concessions, cake raffles, the slave sale, and the sale of pom-poms were all among the fund raisers, but the Mai-Fest breakfast and Autumn Leaf Booth were the largest money makers. Class advisors were Mr. Cowles, Mr. Lietz and Mr. Douglass.

Lecapi Prepares A Historical Record of School

Working on the yearbook staff is not all fun and games. Many hours are devoted just as in a sport or other extra curricular activity. As usual the staff always experiences a drop in numbers, but those who remained this year were a big help. The advisor, Mr. Mausser, deserves a very special thank you for the numerous hours he spent in the dark room preparing pictures and the time he gave up for taking them. A special thank you also goes to all the advertisers who make our book possible and to Mr. Miles Turnbull for the photographs he donated. It has been an interesting year putting the 1981 Lecapi together and hopefully everyone will enjoy it.

LHS Athletes and Their Spirited Supporters

Outdoor Ed — Masonic Awards — Girls’ State

Activities Fill FBLA Schedule

Future Business Leaders of America was one of the most active clubs at LHS this year. The largest project was taking on the responsibility of concessions at home sports events. FBLA handled all the paperwork while each class supplied students to work. The idea worked well and allowed the club to boost its treasury quite a bit. Another important event was the formal installation of the chapter by the state FBLA officers. In the spring, the state conference was held, to which many members went to participate in learning and competing events.

Honor Society Students and VOICE Staff

Ivette Viera came to L.H.S. this year from San Salvador, El Salvador. When asked her reason for wanting to visit the United States she answered, “It looked like something different than what life is like in San Salvador and a chance to experience new things.” There are quite a few differences she noticed, one being the weather. Snow was not a part of life there and it makes it seem colder than she is used to. School is much stricter in her home country and as usual the language is different. Her hobbies include painting, drawing, swimming and playing ping-pong.

Roldao Pereira de Mello made his second trip to the United States this year to visit L.H.S. His home is in Sao Paulo State, Brazil. Roldao, who had taken two years of English in Brazil, felt that he learned more by being in the U.S. and having to speak it. Skiing, basketball, and FBLA kept him busy while he was with us, and everyone enjoyed his stay as much as he did.

Kangaroos, gum trees and Caryn Evans were all a part of Australia until Caryn left to come to the U.S. She describes her home town as very busy compared to Leavenworth. Some other differences here are the cold weather, accents, and the lenient schools. In Australia, Caryn spent most of her time at the beach, playing water polo, or swimming. Here at L.H.S. she is involved in track, would like to join pep club, and is looking forward to spending time in the mountains during the Outdoor Education class she is enrolled in.

The Freshman class made the first contribution to their treasury by operating a booth at the Autumn Leaf Festival. They sold hot fresh corn, pop and popcorn as well as some homemade chili. The class showed spirit on spirit days by dressing up which included many diapers on Freshman Initiation Day. President Kirby Reinhart led the class while Joi Ecklund assisted as Vice President. Secretary Denae Almeida kept good records of class meetings while Kevin Pfister controlled the finances as Treasurer. Mr. Stroup, Mr. Fromm, Mr. Mausser and Mr. Sanford were the class advisors.

Selling candy proved to be the largest profit making idea for the Sophomore class. Among the items sold were M & M’s, Reese’s and peanuts. As of this year they have the most prosperous treasury anyone can remember for Sophomores, and they also have more students in the class than any other in the history of L.H.S. Mark Kimmerly ran the class as President, Suzie Parton was Vice President, Marianne Motteler filled the position of Secretary, and Paula West handled the money as Treasurer. Mr. Cook, Mrs. Wood and Mr. McCulley served as the class advisors. Besides selling candy, the Sophomores also had a booth at Autumn Leaf where they sold snow cones and cotton candy.

Juniors

Working toward their main goal of the year, putting on the Junior-Senior prom, the Junior class had to raise a substantial amount of money. They achieved this by working with the "Partnerships In Education" group at a booth during the Autumn Leaf Festival and selling concessions at games. Another funding project was selling buttons with the boys' basketball team picture on them for the state tournament. Heading the class this year were: President, Cecelia Krakovsky; Vice-President, Kerri Gehring; Secretary, Susan Walsdorf; and Treasurer, Jessie Waters. Class advisors were Mrs. Housden, Miss Porter and Mr. Larson.

Who's Who in 1981

Seniors of 1981 Who's Who pictured clockwise from above: Most Friendly — Brian Robinson and Tammy Howell; Most Likely to Succeed — Melissa Motteler and John Kageorge; Most Athletic — Sarah Magee and Darren Weaver; Wolf and Flirt — Randy Davidson and Jill Lowe; Most Serious — Lisa Tonge and James Elser; Best Dressed — Roy Wechselberger and Laura Edwards; Most Likely to Skip Class — Christi Murphy and Ken Burmester; Most Humorous — David Langlois and Karlyn Gehring.
Seniors Sold for Revenge

The senior slave sale didn’t bring in a lot of money ($103) but it was a lot of laughs as you can see by the following pictures. Tracy Ostella and Karlyn Gehring, the little angels that they are, carried the highest price tag, $30.25. Roy Wachselberger and Jeff McEachern “in concert” went over very well with the crowd and brought in $19.75. There was even a special appearance by “Spiderman John Kageorge”, who went out of his heroic way to help out the class. The activity was arranged this year by Laura Edwards and Brian Robinson.

Pictures counterclockwise from top right: Australian exchange student Caryn Evans imitates an “American Cowboy”; Lori West and Vicki Renberg bummin’ around; Roy and Jeff waiting to see how much money their ‘rockin out’ will bring; Scott Aldrich, Jeff Burnett and Jim Ward hunting (who knows what?).
Pictures clockwise from below: The senior slaves waiting for their masters; James Elser in his singing debut; Spiderman, himself! Karlyn Gehring and Tracy Ostella looking heavenly; Kerry Clark and Sarah Magee in a remake of Abbott and Costello.
1981 Graduation Shows
Red and Black Pride

The 1981 commencement exercises were held in the L.H.S. gymnasium on May 28. Speeches were made by Valedictorian Melissa Motteler, Salutatorian Teri Parkins and a surprise speech by John Kageorge. Entertainment provided by the senior class consisted of a duet by David Langlois and Lorri West, a duet by Vicki Renberg and Laura Edwards and an instrumental by Roy Wechselberger, Jeff McEachern, Bob Boggs, Vicki Renberg, Julie and Judie Satterfield. Processional leaders for the class of '81 were Ben Sanford and Mary Arakalian. Orville Richards, who was School Board Chairman handed out the diplomas as the seniors were called by name. Graduation displayed a great deal of pride by the class and will surely be a remembered occasion by all.

Pictures clockwise from above: Laura Edwards and Vicki Renberg sing
"Do You Know Where You're Going To"; Salutatorian Teri Parkins at the podium; Class of 1981 filing in for the ceremonies; David Langlois and Lorri West perform an original duet they wrote; John Kageorge gives an unexpected speech about America; the finished product of the senior decorators; Judie Satterfield, Vicki Renberg, Roy Wechselberger, Julie Satterfield and Bob Boggs play the instrumental "Rise" (not pictured is Jeff McEachern on the drums); Valedictorian Melissa Motteler delivers her address.
Awards of scholarships and senior awards were as follows: Tammy Balter — Mares Scholarship to WVC and Marson and Marson Scholarship; Jerry Burnett — Marson and Marson and Morris Merit Scholarships; Kerry Clark — Junior Miss and EWU Scholarship; James Elser — Leavenworth Rotary Club Scholarship; John Kageorge — LEA Scholarship; Melissa Motteler — LEA Scholarship and UPS Scholarship; Vicki Renberg — Wenatchee Ladies' Music Club Scholarship; Teri Parkins — Mares Salutatorian and Valedictorian.

Scholarship to WVC: Teri Parkins and Melissa Motteler received awards; Melissa Motteler received the Ideal Senior Award.
