And the walls came crumblin' down . . .

first it was difficult going to school on a construction site but we soon learned to adapt ourselves to the three inches of mud and the three feet deep trenches. "Duck" Shoeson became the in footwear item, and we soon realized it wasn't an earthquake but a tractor pounding in the dirt. In the next few pages I take a behind the scenes look of our new school before it was completed.

What used to be the courtyard became "Cascade" during the fall. Middle, L-R is the old gym and lard looking across the courtyard. One of the soon to be many homes on the campus of CHS. Bottom The tractors and the mud, three well-known sights on the campus of Cascade High School.

Pictures this page clockwise from left: The new gym looks like a jail but future plans will make this an awesome sight for watching Kodiak basketball games. The domes behind bars. If any person deserves a medal it is the student of Cascade High School. This poor soul saw parts of this once glorious campus torn up from their roots and replaced by mud, dirt, sludge and debris. He saw classes torn from beneath him, and a gym put in place of them. Before he could adapt to this, he was ripped from even its meager environment, dragged through the mud, and thrown into leaky domes... then came the precipitation.

This student sat in one of the few remaining classrooms that was a classroom, looking upon dirt that was taken out, replaced, taken out, replaced, taken out and replaced once more. Then he saw it taken out and replaced once more again.

This student trudged through snow, and ice and sludge and stuff... then came the spring. The snow melted, the rains came, the domes leaked, the sticky, gooey, slimy mud returned...

The mud dried up despite the rain, but the final blow: The few remaining classrooms were reduced by even more. The student was then deported into a garage-like torture chamber, with half-way walls and a dirt encrusted floor. The floor was cement, the walls were plasterboard. The acoustics I cannot, will not describe.

This student has taken all that he can take, he asks himself, “How can there be any more?” This student not only deserves a medal, but a scholarship, new shoes, and a new jacket (or at least new sleeves due to lack of Kleenx!) — Kurtis Lively.
The construction of Cascade Jr./Sr. High school ... What an experience! Learning the difference between beams and trusses, watching new classrooms take form and seeing sprinkler systems and plumbing installed were just a few of the activities that could be seen from the "outside." A great thanks is due to the construction workers who were very cooperative in letting us wander around and take the pictures we needed.

Clockwise from top: Pictured the entrance to the new school. The no longer existent Library and Mrs. Wood's room. Doug Peterson carries boxes from Motor Transport Trailers. Nicknamed the "Great Wall," the locker room wall looks even taller without the scaffolding. Ron the Plumber, and son Dana the Laborer, leaning on shovel, dig for a new water line.

Homecoming 1983:
All Night Long

The first Cascade student body celebrated Homecoming this year in a blaze of enthusiasm. Kathy Hansen reigned as queen along with her escort Tony Porter. The Royalty included Seniors Becky Renberg and Kirby Reinhart, Juniors Wendi Pulse and Nate Squires, Sophomores Kristen Wagener and Darin Lowe, and Freshman Megan Motteler and Des Spry.

The first activities included Spirit Week, where students could be seen wearing sweats, sporting "nerdy clothes," pairing up and dressing as twins, and mourning the defeat of Okanogan’s football team by wearing black. On the big game day, everyone wore Red and Grey.

On Wednesday, the Senior and Junior girls battled it out for the Powder Puff Championship. They sacrificed their bodies, bruising and punishing each other, but it ended in a tie, 6-6. Thursday night the excitement mounted as the Kodiaks got fired up with the traditional bonfire and pep assembly.
Students rocked to the high-voltage sound of "The Machine" at Wenatchee Valley College's Campus Theater. Chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. Stroup, Barry and Leah Moats, Mr. McGregor, and Mr. Willsey.

On the nights of Nov. 17, 18 and 19, the Cascade Characters premiered, playing to a packed multipurpose room in Peshastin. "Agatha Christie Made Me Do It," a play about a chronic loser who loses a day, starred Stace Knudson as Monte Brainard (our hero), Lissa Marshall as Cindy Haines (Monte's fiancée), Deanna Knudson as Rupert Holland (Monte's cousin), Tony Moran as Monte's lawyer, Sam Sears, David McMillin as Carl Lloyd, Monte's 'friend', Johannes Steffen as Waldo the Butler, Wendy Thormahlen as Annie the Maid, Tessie Watkins as Jo-Jo the Stripper, Darrell Griffith as Dutch Winters, Robin Ising as Jennie Winters, and Gary Thoren as Hootspah, the combination policeman/narrator of the play. The play was directed by Barb Sym's and Mrs. Jan Wood. Bob Smith was Stage Manager along with his crew of Alycia Wilson and Kari Aunan. Lights were handled by Mike Mattson, Ken Reiman and Gene Cenotto. Makeup was done by Lissa Marshall, Leslie Styles, and Kaylene Waters. Best Actor and Actress awards went to Tony Moran and Lissa Marshall and Most improved Actor/Actress went to Stace and Deanna Knudson.

"CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF '84, DRYDEN GROCERY & HARDWARE."
Juniors have the tune of CHS!

The first Junior class of Cascade High was led by five very outstanding young ladies. Keeping this class “Up Where We Belong” were President Cyndi Goehner; Vice President Jennie Turnbull; Secretary Tammy Korsjøen; Treasurer Melissa Hykes; and Representative Terri Scott. The Junior class made money by having the concession stand at home boys’ and girls’ basketball games, booths at the festivals and occasional dances, “When we can get Mr. McGregor’s okay.” The class was “Putting on the Ritz” when they sponsored the Jr./Sr. Prom with the same theme.

"BEST WISHES FROM BALLINGER-WEST."
Freshmen enjoy their first year at CHS

The Freshman class of Cascade High School was quite busy during the year. Leaders of this class were President Shannon Williams, Vice President Stephanie Young, Secretary Megan Mattler and Treasurer Jim Colvin. The class held hoop shoots, cake raffles and had booths at festivals to make money. They also collected cans of Food for the Community Cupboard for Christmas dinners.

Taking Care of Business

This year was the first FBLA Club for the newly consolidated Cascade High School. FBLA stands for Future Business Leaders of America. The main purpose of FBLA is to build bridges between the classroom and American businesses. People in this club not only grow as a team, but as individuals. For activities FBLA went to five conferences around the state. They sold address books, Autumn Leaf T-shirts and plan to sell bumper stickers. FBLA is not just a club — It's a learning experience! The most important thing about FBLA is that you learn to become a successful business leader who strives for unending dreams! We're getting involved today ... for tomorrow!

I’m a Pepper, You’re a Pepper!

This year’s Pep Club had a busy schedule. The Pep Club activities included Christmas caroling, members gathered gifts such as clothes, games, and food. The club hosted Winter Spirit Day, which provided an array of activities Pep Club provided hot chocolate and the events were enjoyed by all who attended.

Blood, Sweat and Tears

This year has been a fun and exciting one for the Cascade Journalism class. We began the year with a new advisor, Mr. Howard Cook and some fresh ideas. One thing we decided to do as a class was to print the school newspaper, "the Kodiak Yak" commercially. With the help of Miles and Jane Turnbull and the staff at the Leavenworth Echo we began tackling our first paper. Taking the bumps and shots that come with showbiz we finally got our first issue finished. Next we began the long but rewarding work on Cascade High School's first annual. The frustrations and hours put in were many but the joys and fun were worth it all! Are we proud of our annual? You bet we are, because we are proud of the school it represents...the Cascade Kodiaks!!

The Journalism staff adopted a new look this year. The school paper has become more professional, not only in appearance, but in content as well. They began commercially publishing the paper with the help of Miles and Jane Turnbull and their fine staff at the Leavenworth office. They did this in hope of beginning a more entertaining and quality school newspaper at Cascade High School.
The CHS Drama Club did many things to support the art of theater this year, including selling candy as a fund raiser. Putting on creativity workshops and attending Centrum, an annual workshop in Port Townsend, Washington, were also some activities Drama Club was involved with in order to enrich the Cascade drama program.

Student government did a great job keeping things in order this year. One of the many important things they accomplished during the first year of Cascade's existence was the job of writing up a new school constitution. They came through and Cascade now has a set of guidelines it will follow for many years to come.

Band

The Kodiak Choir kept busy this year, caroling at Christmas time and competing at the North Central Washington Choir contest where they received an "Excellent" rating for their performance. Tony Moran represented us well at All-State Choir.

Choir

Cascade High School's first ever band got off to a great start, using uniforms borrowed from Grandview High School to march in. Participating in NCW Band contest, entertaining the crowds at home football and basketball games, and selling jewelry to raise money were some of the things the Band involved themselves in.

Below The Band takes a breather.
The Kodiak football cheerleaders did a super job this year. They continually showed their support and expressed their enthusiasm throughout the season. Pictured clockwise from top:

Sometimes the score clock just doesn’t tell the whole story. You don’t get points for things like tenacity, spirit, and sportsmanship. The first Kodiak football team didn’t win many games this year, but they did win a lot of respect and admiration from their fans for hanging in there. This was exhibited from the start, where two whole roofer buses full of screaming Cascade fans rode all the way to Oroville to cheer on the Kodiaks in their first game. Coached by Mr. Dan Roche, led by seniors Wayne Ganong, Tony Porter, Dan Johnson, Randy Cline, John Nelson, Gene Cenotto, Wes Ala‘ilima, Rudy Prey, Dennis Smith, and Kirby Reinhart, managed by Jeff Koempel, they may not have racked up a lot of wins, but they will always be remembered for their determination and dedication.

GOOD LUCK, KODIAKS! DER SPORTSMAN
The 1983-84 season for the first Kodiak volleyball team was somewhat disappointing. Although they had a lot of individual talent, they were frustrated again and again by teams with more height and aggression. They did have some excellent leadership in Coach Don Douglass and seniors Kathy Hansen (Capt.), Wendi Crabtree (Capt.), Carolyn Dunn, Denae Almeida, Chris Dunn, and Jeanie Stoner.

The 1983-84 Kodiak Wrestling Team will be a tough act to follow. They set high goals and worked hard the whole season to achieve them. This first year at C.H.S. was not only an outstanding year for the experienced wrestlers, but also a good building year for the underclassmen.

The Kodiaks sent six wrestlers to District; Kevin Pfister, Wayne Ganong, Larry Sandelin, Erik Hotchkiss, 1st, Larry 3rd, and Kevin 6th (Alternate). Erik and Larry both went on to Regional and State competition.

After placing 3rd in District and 1st at Regionals, Larry Sandelin went on to take 2nd at State in a series of exciting matches. Larry had an excellent regular season ending with a very respectable record of 29 wins and 3 losses.

Erik Hotchkiss did very well in postseason tournaments. After some hard and tough battles, he earned the honored titles of both District and Regional Champion. Through some heartbreaking matches, Erik placed 7th at State. His final season record was 20 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie.

The 1983-84 Kodiaks Basketball team started the season with a very impressive record. This year's team united, well setting many goals for the newly formed Kodiak team. With only three seniors playing for the Kodiaks the underclassmen got a lot of playing time and a lot of experience for next season.

The Kodiaks were coached this year by Vice Principal/Athletic Director Mr. McGregor.

As the first ever Kodiak Basketball Team the boys did a great job and made us all proud to be from Cascade High School. The team was chosen by the Caribou Coaches Association as The Team with the Best Sportsmanship.

The girl Kodiaks had an outstanding first year season placing fourth in regular season play and placing third in the District Tournament. They were coached by Bob Bullis and the team was captained by Senior Tammy Trelford. In Tournament action the girls lost a heart stopper to the Chelan Goats 42-38 at the Dryden Gym. The following games were played at the Eastmont Gym where the girls beat Omak, Quincy, and gained revenge on the Goats. In a heartbreaker game, the girls lost to the Tonasket Tigers and missed a State Tourney berth.

The Kodiaks experienced a difficult season finishing with a one and seventeen overall mark. The team had high aspirations at the start of the season, but things never seemed to materialize. With a few breaks the season would have left a better impression. The team is young with only three seniors on the varsity, so look for better seasons to come!
Girls Just Wanna Have Fun!

The 1984 Kodiak Softball team had a rewarding first year. They were a young team consisting mostly of juniors. They competed in district action and are looking forward to an even more successful season next year.

Track Cuts . . .

The 1984 Kodiak Track team was very quick and successful. The girl Kodiaks took home the first Championship trophy in Cascade High School’s short history. The girls won the trophy at the Ray Cross Invitational Track Meet at Ephrata, beating out 16 other “A” school teams.

The Kodiak team had an outstanding year with nine entries to the state track in Eastmont. The nine entries were:

100 meter dash
Gail Gagnon
Wendi Pulse

200 meter dash
Gail Gagnon
Wendi Pulse

400 meter relay
Wendi Pulse
Gretchen Freund
Becky Renberg
Gail Gagnon

800 meter relay

Lisa Nicholas
Misty Fenner
Gail Gagnon

1600 meter relay
Gretchen Freund
Becky Renberg
Lisa Nicholas
Misty Fenner

Javelin
Rudy Prey

Pole Vault
Jim Colvin

Out of these nine entries, the Kodiak tracksters had three top six placers. They were: Wendi Pulse in the 200 meter dash, Rudy Prey in the javelin, and the 1600 meter relay team consisting of Gretchen, Becky, Lisa, and Misty. They placed fourth, sixth, and fifth respectively.
The first Kodiak Golf squad represented themselves and their school in fine fashion as they completed the regular season and continued into post-season play. The team was led throughout the year by sophomore Chris Townley. The Kodiaks have a great deal to look forward to in the upcoming years as the majority of their team this year were underclassmen. We look forward to reading about the golf team next year when the State finals roll around.

Being that this is the first year of the existence for the Cascade School District, we felt it was important to find out what some long term goals are as seen by our administrators.

Mr. Veach hopes to attain the image as a "real class operation." He feels in order to achieve this we must have top notch facilities as well as administrators and faculty who are dedicated to the goals and philosophy of the district. The students in turn must take pride in the school and contribute to the ongoing image being developed at Cascade High School.
Mr. Willsey, 2nd year principal at our high school, prioritized his wishes for the district. Tops on the list was that all students feel a sense of pride in being part of Cascade High School. He hopes that the school will supply areas in which the kids feel successful and the faculties and program will encourage students to reach their potential. In order to achieve these things, he has requested the staff ask themselves one basic question before making every decision. "Is this decision good for kids?" He understands that there's sometimes "short term pain and long term gain." He feels the staff has worked very hard to give the students a good school experience, even though this year has called for changes in some areas due to our "unique system." He strongly believes that all teachers are committed to a new beginning with Cascade Jr.-Sr. High School.

Mr. McGregor would like to see all of the kids in the district accept the responsibility of good citizenship and appreciate and respect other people and property. He thinks they need to value hard work, good things and have pride in themselves and our school. He feels the Communities have always supported the school financially, and must continue to do so. It seems that everyone reacts when something's done wrong, but seldomly do people recognize something done well. They need to be consistent in backing the school program, the kids, and the administration. Providing leadership and promoting things that are good, whether kids like it or not, are a couple of the things administration must do. He says that they must act as a "cheerleader" for the kids and provide activities.
Here is the new Cascade Faculty. They are our friends as well as our educators. Every day becomes a new and challenging experience for each teacher. Because of the consolidation, new friendships have developed. It’s a real job to bring together three hundred kids and keep some order in the classroom. They have to be special people, because this year has turned out to be a real success!

With the school building in a state of chaos, it was sometimes difficult to get serious about classes this year, but the scholarly Cascade students proved that they have brains as well as beauty! New classes, new teachers, and new classmates made this year's time in the classroom unique. CHS students will remember 1984 as a very educational year.

GOOD LUCK IN THE FUTURE, SENIORS! — TÖFF TÖFF STATION
“Happy Trails to you, until we meet again” sang a group of emotional, but elated seniors on the cold, clear night of June 8, 1984, where the first 61 graduates of Cascade High School received their diplomas with big smiles and a few tears. Kim Dulin headed the Class of '84 as valedictorian, followed by co-salutatorians Barb Symes and Lisa Nicholas. Class President Barb Symes welcomed the chilled, but cheerful crowd on the decked out Leavenworth football field, and guest speakers Miles Turnbull and Bob Stroup gave the class of '84 some words of wisdom and laughter.

Hats, balloons, and shouts flew into the air after Reverend Mark Dalan gave the benediction blessing the first class of CHS. The crowd dispersed and the grads prepared to celebrate at the all night party put on by the senior parents. On the football field, now deserted, nothing was left except crumpled programs, flowers, and memories of four wonderful years of high school for the Class of '84.
This Is It!
