- Who's Who
We dedicate this year's edition of Ursa Major to the students of Cascade High School for all the hard work and dedication they put into our school to make it what it is today.
In Memory of Jim Ripley

A life not lived is truly lost, a risk well taken worth the cost. Jim lived his life to please the Lord, and even death can't break that cord. Enthusiasm, joy and love. Of christian friends, and God above; in life he influenced those he could, in death he touched a multitude. Jim's with the Lord, the Lord is good. Life's measured not by years, but should reflect God's love. And thus we see Jim's faith still speaks to you and me.
Ben Swartout

Ben was a friend of many people. He was involved in videotaping games, writing an adventure novel, and working on computers.

As many people know, Ben had a sense of humor. He told weird jokes and wrote comic strips with “Super Duck” and the “Loch Ness Monster.”

Ben didn’t always do or say the right thing, but over all he was a good person.

— Matt Swartout

Mr. Howard Cook became Cascade High School’s new assistant principal this year. Mr. Cook has ten years of previous teaching experience mainly in psychology, journalism, and business. He was also an active coach.

Mr. Cook enjoys his new position as assistant principal although he does miss the contact with the students in the classroom.

Mr. Cook says, "I am truly excited about the attitude, atmosphere, and direction shown by the students at Cascade this year."

"Touch a mind"
"Touch a heart"
"Touch a life"

"That is what we are about here," says Mr. Paul Ganalon.

Mr. Ganalon became Cascade’s principal this year after holding previous principal and assistant principal positions in the Bremerton and Bainbridge school districts.

A goal for Mr. Ganalon is Cascade High School becoming one of the top schools in the state academically and co-curricularly. He wants Cascade to be an effective school which will provide programs to meet the needs of high, middle, and low achieving students for a successful career with college, vocational school, business school, technical school, or the world of work.

Mr. Ganalon really enjoys Cascade High School. He says the school is beautiful with terrific students, committed teachers, and a supportive community.

The Cascade volleyball team was a real inspiration this year. They showed us what hard work was all about and never quit trying. They ran their games on mental toughness and positive mental attitude and made us out a very close team!

IT WAS A CLASSIC WEEK!

The Cascade student body celebrated Homecoming by dressing up for the Spirit Week. Spirit Week consisted of the following dress up days: Monday — sweat day, Tuesday — hat and shades day, Wednesday — Hawaiian day, Thursday — tour day and Friday was red and gray day. Debbie Darlington reigned as queen escorted by Darren Lowe. The Royalty include Seniors Leslie Nicholas and Ray Orcutt, Juniors Heidi Houser and Denny Sweat, Sophomores Kristie Houston and Toc Thrasher and Freshman Jena Taylor and Dan Palasky.

ALL IN GOOD TASTE

The Cascade Drama Club had a very interesting year this year. Playing a double feature posed on them a lot of work and stress but they pulled it off!

One of the two drama productions was “Where Have All The Lightning Bugs Gone?” starring Sara Renberg and Nathan Link. Those of you who saw it will remember the interesting plot and story.

The other play was called “Such A Nice Little Kitty”. This was about a man, a woman, and a cat that drove the man crazy. The story is based around a Garfield-like cat (which you never see) that is driving the husband crazy. In the meantime, the wife sticks up for the “poor little kitty.” Excellent performances by Bruce Carte (the husband), Bev Warman (the wife), and Gary Thoren (the cop), captivated the audience.

These pictures show some of the scenes from both productions.
The Student Council had made many hard decisions this year. They were very busy trying to promote leadership in our school and trying to keep up the positive attitude toward our school. They did this by showing their pride and enthusiasm for the students they worked so hard for.

Our new principal, Mr. Ganalon, was a great advisor and helped improve our school by bringing in new ideas.

1. Yes, these actually were our leaders who ran this school! And to believe, eh? Standing left to right: Debbie Darlington - President; Mike Pflugrah - Treasurer; Shannon Williams - Secretary; Mr. Ganalon - Principal; Leslie Nicholas - V.-Pres.

2. Student Council is the name, and keeping busy is the game! At least that's what Amy, Kristy, Duane, Ashley and Kari see it.

3. This is so exciting! The three stooges: Janae, Natalie, and unker.

The 1985-86 Cascade Journalism/Yearbook Staff was small but full of many creative ideas. Although most of them had very little experience we managed to get the job done. Mr. Brunelle experienced his first year here at Cascade as our advisor.

With a little creative thinking we decided the over-all theme of this year’s annual would be “Cascade Classic.” This theme was derived from the product coca-cola classic. The headlines and trademarks are taken from old coke commercials and jingles dating back to the early 1900’s.

The staff continued to commercially print “The Kodiak Yak” thanks to the Leavenworth Echo and the help of Miles and Jane Turnbull. We also decided to start a student paper, as done in past years, to give the students a paper they could call their own. We give special thanks to Greg McEwen and Terry Loss for some of the photos you see throughout this book, and to Howard Cool for all the help and advice.

We hope you the students of Cascade will enjoy this annual as much as we did in making it a “classic” just for you!

JUNIOR VARSITY

The girls’ junior varsity basketball team had very successful year ending the season with a 19- record. The team dominated the Caribou Tra League J.V. action, blasting one opponent after another.

"I was pleased with their performance," said Ms. Wilson, the girls J.V. coach. "They played a lot of good, enthusiastic basketball. Although they were inconsistent at times, that is to be expected at the J.V. level." Coach Wilson went on to say, "We should have been 20-0, but I’m really pleased with our 19-1 record."

The girls’ junior varsity definitely had a season they can be proud of.

CATCH THE FEVER OF SPRING!

This year the students of Cascade celebrated the end of winter and the coming of spring with a week of spirited activities. Each day of the week was designated for dress-up as follows: Monday — Shorts and Shades Day; Tuesday 50's Day; Wednesday — Funk Day; Thursday — Red and Gray Day; and Friday — Spring Sports Day.

The week ended in a "classic" way. A combination of winter and spring activities got under way on Friday. The activities ranged from sled races, on what snow there was left, ice cream eating, pickleball to the traditional softball games and tug-of-war. The seniors were the overall winners.

Thanks to the Pep Club and cheerleaders for making it a successful week.

Don't you hate cold toilet seats Rocky? 2. Jeff P. 1 Tami M. lettin loose. 3. Kevin R. wins 1st place for the freshmen. 4. Jeff W. frolicking in the snow. 5. Troy S. cruising the halls of Cascade. 6. Judy C., Gloria S., Megan M. start a new trend in thing.
LEADERSHIP — GO GET SOME!

The '85 Leadership Camp was truely one of the greatest in years. The camp was held at “Heaven Can Wait,” a resort in the Pleasant Valley area. The campers learned about Parliamentary Procedure, getting students involved in leadership skills, promoting school spirit and being dedicated to their school. Not all of their time was spent in sessions. They managed to find time to swim, go hot tubbing, jump on the trampoline, play volleyball, "Punch in the Dragon" on the VCR.

The Leadership Camp members wanted to start something new and keep spirit flowing throughout the year. They decided to create the Leadership Club. Its purpose is to provide an example for other students by showing school spirit and be involved in school activities. It has made positive attitude within Cascade and united those students who want to help to improve our school. One of their projects this year was a read-a-thon which lasted an entire quarter. It was a profitable money raiser as well as beneficial to the readers.

The Leadership Club is expected to grow and become even more involved in future. With their main goal of continuing school spirit and involvement, they're looking to have continued success.

2. The camp T-shirts say it all! 3. James T. and his guys are helping The Red Cross in mailing letters. 4. The Club takes a stand on litter in a school assembly. (Yes, they are actually wearing garbage bags!)

We laughed until we had to cry, and we loved, right wn to our last goodbye
We were the best I think we'll ever be, for just a xent
We chased that dream we never found, and metimes, we let one another down, but the love we ide, made everything all right. We shone so bright,
just a moment.
Time rolls on, people touch, and they're gone, and u and I will never love again, like we did then.
Someday, when we both reminisce, we'll both say re wasn't too much we missed, and through the urs, we'll both smile, when we recall, we had it all,
just a moment.
Time rolls on, people touch and then they're gone,
t you and I, we'll never really end, we'll never love
ain, like we did then.
We laughed, until we had to cry, and we loved,
ht down to our last goodbye . . .

CASCADE PUTS YOUR FRIENDS

EARTH CALLING PETE! Peter Boyce looking a bit spacey... 2. THEY CALL HIM BRUCE! Bruce ready for a pose... 3. HOLA! COMO ESTAS. Mr. Todd Thrasher. 4. “Hey, what can I say?” Cheeza, at a mess Haley Horey can make. Better call in the excavation crew. 5. Someone snapped this as Karenister concentrates on the game.
1. "AREN'T WE CUTE?" Shelley Warman and Sara Remberg goofing off in Mr. Cowles' class. 2. "THE YOUNG MAN!" That's Mike Dana dressed up for once. Nice tux, Mike. 3. "AAAH, COULDV'E BEEN BETTER" says James Turner as the ball sinks into the basket. 4. "HEY, DON'T READ THIS..." Dawn Gibb exclaims, as writing notes in class becomes a favorite pastime. 5. "WHAT'S WITH THE GLASSES, GUYS?" Seems Troy Davis and Audrie DeJean did a little switch for the camera. 6. "SHE BLINDED ME WITH SCIENCE!" Actually that's Mitzi McKinney's new way to get her hair done. Amazing thing, modern technology!
