Ursa Major

ursa major: constellation in the northern sky containing the stars of the big dipper, also depicted as a large bear. (Latin ursa major — the great bear.)

Cascade High School, Leavenworth, WA, Volume 9
The 1991-92 yearbook staff would like to dedicate this year’s Ursa Major to Cascade High School principal Mr. Bill Kelm and Junior High School principal Mr. Chris Loftus. This school year has been quite a challenge for the students and faculty as well as the administration due to changes in administration and the construction of a new middle school. Mr. Kelm and Mr. Loftus concentrated on three major student goals this year: dignity, respect and self-esteem. In the Junior High, Fridays were designated as “Clean Day”. Teachers gave out certificates to students who exemplified good behavior, productivity, and respect for other students and faculty. In the Senior High, Mr. Kelm went all out and challenged students to keep our school cafeteria clean for twenty days. If this challenge was met, he agreed to shave part of his head as a reward to the students. Both Mr. Kelm and Mr. Loftus have made Cascade Junior-Senior High School a better place to be. The yearbook staff would like to thank both for their efforts. You have given us guidance, respect and above all, friendship. We wish you luck with the future.

The Cascade Football team enjoyed a very good year. They ended the season in a flourish; winning three of their last four games. This was heightened by beating Royal City, who had gone undefeated. It was also a sweet victory, because it was homecoming.

The year was highlighted by several team victories and individual performances. Besides the Royal City triumph, other significant wins were posted over Omak and Cashmere. The win against Cashmere was especially thrilling because this was the first year of the Pear Bowl. The team came from behind and held the Bulldogs off in the last few minutes.

By finishing 5-4 for the season, and 4-4 in league, the "91" team, posted the first winning record since 1987.
FOOTBALL

A Building Year For

The majority of the girls on the three squads were freshmen or sophomores, so this was mainly a building year. The girls gained valuable experience and will be strong contenders in the following seasons. On the varsity squad, senior Cassie Johnson was chosen as the most valuable player. Senior Nicole Duncan was voted as the most inspirational player and the most improved award went to junior Sarah Morgan and sophomore Nicole Maninger.

The boys basketball team provided Cascade fans with an exciting and competitive season. SPRING

Renewing the Spirit
Because of the warm spring weather, this was the first time ever that the Kodiak golf team opened their season practice on home turf at the Leavenworth Golf Course instead of their usual start-up on the Rock Island Golf Course in East Wenatchee. The team sent the following top five boys and girls to District play at Chelan: Justin Fonville, Jeff Janssen, Stan Olson, Nate Renberg, Mike Wilson, Kate Clayton, Cami Leonard, Laura Stirling, April Styles, and Suzie Wendlandt. Both Janssen and Wendlandt advanced to State competition at Liberty Lake with Wendlandt placing 12th. Jeff Janssen was named Boys Team Captain and Suzie Wendlandt was named Girls Team Captain. The Coaches' Award of Most Inspirational went to Kate Clayton.

The girls played a lot of productive softball which will put them on track for a good season next year. Alicia McIver was named Team Captain. Holly Roberts received the Most Inspirational Award, and Stefanie Bergren received the Most Improved Award.
The 1992 Junior Varsity Softball Team had a lot of talent which will make for a strong future varsity team. The team played a number of double header games so all the girls accumulated lots of playing time. We're looking forward to seeing their enthusiasm and skill displayed on the varsity level.

Members of the Spanish Club traveled to Mexico during Spring Vacation and enjoyed the sights of Mazatlán. A new group, Cascade Comic Club, organized under the guidance of Dan McConnell, worked diligently on their production of the "Knights of Justice"...a black and white comic produced by the group. FBLA staffed the school store throughout the year during lunch time.

This small and novice staff met before school Tuesdays and Thursdays to produce this year's edition of Ursa Major. Faced with limited worktime, expertise and access to the yearbook computers, we happily accepted the help and support from staff and community members. We would especially like to thank the following people whose professional support decreased our worktime considerably: past yearbook advisor Gary Brunelle for his encouragement and advise, Char Kjelstad for receiving monies and keeping track of book sales, Kathy Wendlandt for negotiating the financial contract payments and receiving ad sales, Terry Loss, local photographer, who contributed free time, photos, and advice (all gladly accepted), and the Leavenworth Echo for contributing photos.
