Kodiaks are more than just students here.
Kodiaks are teammates and family.
Kodiaks are scholars.
Kodiaks are funny, eccentric and crazy.
But most of all Kodiaks are family.
Look around my fellow students, for life moves on and this may be your last year with them.

"Cascade!" Right before one of the most challenging races of the season, the Kodiak XC team put their hands together in a show of unity and support.

In this snapshot at the Omak XC meet, it would seem that instead of striking fear into the hearts of the other runners, Cascade's Girls Varsity opted to strike a pose instead.

Looking very uniform, the Cross Country team bands together to embark on a quick tour of the race course.

Cascade's girls varsity bears down and listens to the friendly advice of their male counterparts as they prepare to race their hearts out at the South Whidby Island Invite.

Jonathan Blake...

Daniel Ohmstead...
...a powerhouse of raw talent, proves that freshmen can be just as fierce as anyone else as he tears up the course.

Caleb Spiegel-Ostrom...
...sets a steady pace that will conserve energy throughout the race and allow him to surge past his competitors at the finish.

After an exhausting day filled with nature trails, rogue kendama masters, and team bonding exercises, Cascade's Cross Country team jumps for joy against the stunning backdrop of a setting sun just off the coast line of South Whidby located on Whidby Island.

While waiting for Cascade's girls to return from their race, their male Kodiak counterparts decided to partake in various remarkable physical feats that soon drew attention from the surrounding crowd of spectators and racers alike. Upon sticking his landing, talented back-flipper Devon Graham, sophomore, received both whistles and admiring (but jealous) looks from the male members of opposing teams. Savannah Smith, Julien Wilder, Kyla Parkins, Gwen Larned, Elizabeth Noland, and Madeline Stubblefield anxiously await the awards ceremony.

Mailee Goller struts her stuff during the group's self expression routine, smiling all the while. Elizabeth and Brenna keep time behind her.

All ten contestants start the night right with their opening number, accompanied by the 2013 DYWL, Ashley Ells.

Contestant number three, Madelaine Harris, shows off her pearly whites. Madelaine was escorted by her grandfather, Pete Shlotefeldt.
Below left to right: At the end of the night, three of the ten contestants on stage were crowned as the official Distinguished Young Women of Leavenworth: Second Alternate Kyla Parkins, Distinguished Young Woman of Leavenworth Madelaine Harris, and First Alternate Madeline Stubblefield.

Last year's four contestants, Madeline Winters, Alex Fletcher, Courtnie Cook and Ashley Ells, show that hard work really does pay off in their "Forget Me Not" rendition of the classic song "Carwash."

It's hard to find a talent that fits into just 90 seconds, but Mailee Goller made it work with her skills as a speed sketcher.

As impromptu questions roll around, Annie Smoots prepares herself at the mic to give a well thought out answer to the judges.

Behind the scenes it's not just fun and games, but pearls and curls as the girls get ready for their big night!

As the night comes to a close, so does the reign of the 2013 Distinguished Young Woman of Leavenworth, Ashley Ells, escorted by her father, Mike Ells.

Life is best lived one day at a time, living fully in each moment, with an eye on the future and remembering lessons learned from the past. This is one of your special moments. Enjoy graduation and all it stands for: dedication, hard work, fun, friends and family. We stand beside you and support you wherever your dreams take you.

Sassy we are so proud of you! You are the best "in all the land."

Mekense Whaley

Kense, from a cute child, to a lovely young lady, we are so proud of you. Keep on your path of success and you will always be on top. Congratulations! We love you, Dad, Mom, & your brothers.

Ashley Strode
The future is yours.
We love you!
Dad, Mom, & Ariah

I beg you... to have patience with everything unresolved in your heart and try to love the questions themselves as if they were locked rooms or books written in a very foreign language.

Don't search for the answers, which could not be given you now, because you would not be able to live them.

And, the point is, to live everything. Live the questions now. Perhaps then, someday far in the future, you will gradually, without noticing it, live your way into the answer....
Every Story has an End
but in Life every
End is just a new Beginning

WE LOVE YOU AND ARE SO PROUD OF ALL YOUR ACHIEVEMENTS.
